1        HOUSTON, TEXAS; WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23, 2021; 9:57 A.M.

2                THE COURT: Now we're going to go to closing 3 arguments in the Fieldwood case. It's my understanding from 4 my case manager is there may be a request to continue this 5 morning's hearing. I don't really -- I didn't understand it
6 in terms of why that was being requested. Perfectly happy 7 to listen to that, but I wanted to do it on the Record at 8 9:45. So let me ask Mr. Genender to tell me what's going 9 on. Go ahead, please.

10              MR. GENENDER: Your Honor, Paul Genender. I'm 11 actually -- was going to give you a courtesy reminder or 12 notice on the Speedcast matter with Mr. Dockerman's 13 permission, a hearing we have tomorrow at 4:00. You had 14 asked us to submit stipulated facts by 9:00 o'clock this 15 morning. Mr. Dockerman and I were working late last night 16 on them. He's in a hearing in Delaware. We're finalizing 17 them, but I wanted -- he -- with his permission, I wanted to 18 let you know that we will get them to you shortly. But 19 obviously hasn't happened by 9:00 o'clock this morning.

20              THE COURT: Thank you. I appreciate that notice.
21 Mr. Perez.

22              MR. GENENDER: Very welcome.

23              MR. PEREZ: Your Honor, Alfredo Perez. Your 24 Honor, I apologize. This is a little bit my fault. I 25 missed an email where one of the parties indicated that they

1 were unavailable from 10:00 to 11:00. And that's when I
2 realized that last night, we -- that's when Mr. Carlson sent 3 the email. But one of the key parties was unavailable at 4 that -- at this time. And, you know, I apologize, it was my 5 fault for missing that email.

6 THE COURT: So this is somebody that needs to be 7 here to hear your closing so they can respond to it; is that 8 the issue?

9 MR. PEREZ: No. It's Mr. Schaible. He will, you 10 know, kind of be the second person up.

11 THE COURT: Got it. We're going to work from 12 11:00 to 12:00. We're going to return at 3:15 and we'll 13 stay until we're finished with closing arguments. Sorry 14 about if there's any confusion on my part, but Mr. Schaible 15 is a key player in the case. I'm going to let him be 16 here --

17 MR. PEREZ: Yeah.

18 THE COURT: -- throughout. So we'll adjourn --

19 MR. PEREZ: Again, Your Honor, this is my fault.
20 I just missed an email. So I apologize to the Court and to 21 all the parties.

22 THE COURT: Yeah. It's fine with me. But we'll 23 adjourn until 11:00 o'clock this morning and we'll start 24 sharply at 11:00. Thank you.

25 (Recess taken from 10:00 a.m. to 10:59 a.m.)

1 AFTER RECESS

2 THE COURT: All right. We're going to return to 3 the Fieldwood Confirmation Hearing. As I had indicated 4 yesterday, we're going to start with closing arguments by 5 the Debtor and then we'll move to closing arguments by any 6 other proponent. We will then move to closing arguments by 7 any opponent. And then we're going to allow a rebuttal by 8 the Debtor only.

9 So whoever is going to take the lead for the 10 Debtor, if you'll press five star one time on your phone, 11 also let me know who you want to have the presenter role.

12 Mr. Perez, good morning.

13 MR. PEREZ: Good morning, Your Honor, Alfredo 14 Perez on behalf of the Debtors. Your Honor, if you could 15 give the presenter role to Ms. Choi?

16 THE COURT: All right. Ms. Choi has the screen.

17 MR. PEREZ: Thank you, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: Hold on one second, please. I was 19 handed a note that I'm supposed to turn on my cam.

20 MR. PEREZ: That -- it's okay by me, Your Honor.

21 THE COURT: All right. Let's move ahead.

22 MR. PEREZ: Thank you, Your Honor. Again, Your 23 Honor, Alfredo Perez on behalf of the Debtors.

24 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF DEBTORS

25 BY MR. PEREZ: We want to first thank you for

1 accommodating the short pause this morning. And again I 2 apologize to everyone for having missed that.

3           Your Honor, I think we're here, you know, after a 4 very, very seems like very long and unfortunately somewhat 5 contentious case that I think has come to a point where I
6 think that the evidence and the actions taken by the Debtors
7 and the other parties that are really key, key to this kind 8 of mosaic put together to address some very significant 9 business and other related issues that I would think that 10 the evidence overwhelmingly establishes that the Plan should 11 be confirmed. If you turn to the next slide, please?

12           Your Honor, I described this as a mosaic because I 13 think the evidence is uncontroverted that each of these 14 participants really contributed to the Plan. And without 15 any of these participants, it's like the stool would have 16 lost one of its legs and we wouldn't have been able to be in 17 the position where we are today.

18           As the evidence indicated, you know, back in March 19 of last year, Fieldwood started experiencing problems. And 20 obviously the Court is well aware of what was going on in 21 the energy business at that time. And it reached out to its 22 first lien term loan lenders represented by Davis, Polk and 23 began, you know, the process. And it was key -- and as 24 Mr. Dane testified, it was key for this business to survive
25 to get additional capital. It needed that capital.

1           It wouldn't have been able to survive, it wouldn't 2 have been able to accomplish what it's seeking to accomplish
3 pursuant to the Plan without that additional capital. And I 4 think the lenders were very clear that in Order to do that, 5 we needed to address all of the various legacy issues that 6 were addressed.

7           So, Your Honor, in terms of we wouldn't be here 8 but for the sale, but for the significant cash that the 9 lenders are contributing, but for the first lien first out 10 lenders agreeing to roll over their debt, but for the second 11 lien lenders agreeing to compromise, and most importantly 12 but for, you know, the very significant contribution that 13 the first lien term lenders are making in providing up to 14 $105 million of cash so that we can exit, by agreeing to 15 assume all the working capital obligations, by doing all of 16 the things that they're doing in order to make this work.
17 So but for those participants, we wouldn't be here, this 18 Plan would not be confirmable.

19           Second, Your Honor, again, we wouldn't be here but 20 for the Apache, you know, agreeing to assume 21 responsibilities and as of last night -- and, Your Honor, we 22 filed at Docket Number 1700 the term sheet with the Apache 23 sureties. That single transaction addresses almost, you 24 know, two-thirds of all of our decommissioning obligations.
25 And that was a key centerpiece to the Plan. And, again, but

1 for having done this, we wouldn't have been able -- we would 2 not have been able to be here where we are today.

3 USCCI, Your Honor, they provided -- they're the 4 only surety that's provided bonding on a go forward basis.
5 We have a term sheet. Credit bid purchaser needs that in 6 order to operate to be able to go forward. Again, but for 7 that we wouldn't have been able to be here.

8 You know, the Unsecured Creditors Committee
9 obviously were key. We signed 165 trade credit agreements 10 compromising over $145 million of claims. And in addition, 11 but for the support of our vendors, again we wouldn't be 12 here. If all of our vendors -- if we didn't have the vendor
13 support that we had during the case and the vendor support 14 that we're going to have -- that Credit Bid Purchaser is 15 going to have after the case, this wouldn't have been 16 feasible credit -- a Credit Bid Purchaser wouldn't have been 17 able to raise the money that they did.

18 Your Honor, next I want to talk about the 19 predecessors that we have consensual agreements with. And,
20 Your Honor, if you will recall, at one of the hearings it 21 was very clear that, you know, that we came in with 22 approximately 80 percent or a little bit under 80 percent of 23 our liabilities, of our asset retirement liabilities
24 resolved. And it was very clear from what the Government 25 was saying and some comments from the Court that, you know,

1 we needed to make the Government comfortable, number one,
2 and we needed to try to resolve as many of these consensual 3 obligations as possible. So, Your Honor, we think that 4 again but for the consensual arrangements that we have with 5 Chevron, Eni, and Hunt which resolve, which get us into that 6 90, 91 percent, that we wouldn't be here with a Plan that 7 the Government doesn't object to.

8           And, Your Honor, and they've kind of paid the 9 price already for having done that. They've already paid 10 the price by being sued by one of the insurers that -- on a 11 non-confirmed Plan. They're already saying that they've 12 been discharged on their bonds. So, you know, but for this 13 arrangement, we wouldn't be able to do -- we wouldn't be 14 able to confirm a Plan. And they've already paid the price, 15 Your Honor. You know, this is an integral part of our Plan, 16 it is integral to the success of the Plan, it is integral to 17 the Government's non-objection to our Plan. And but for 18 having these consensual agreements, we wouldn't be able to 19 confirm this Plan.

20           And then finally, Your Honor, with respect to the 21 Government, obviously as testified by Mr. Dane, we've had 22 extensive, productive discussions with the Government and,
23 you know, there have been, and as the Court recalls, you 24 know, at the disclosure statement hearing, they totally 25 reserved their rights. And I think as a result of the steps

1 that we have taken since that time, that the Government is 2 in a position where they're not objecting to the Plan. And 3 in particular, Your Honor, the key aspects of what the 4 agreements that the proposal that we have made that have 5 satisfied the Government, that we meet our Midlantic
6 standards, are embodied in Section 5.13 of the Plan. And 7 that is at Document 1697, and pages 216 of 218, as well as 8 paragraphs 141 to 144 of the proposed Confirmation Order.
9 Again, but for the Government's, you know, non-objection to 10 the Plan and having worked with us extensively to make sure 11 that they were satisfied that we didn't violate the 12 Midlantic standards, again we wouldn't be here. We would be 13 facing a different Plan confirmation.

14           So, Your Honor, I'm going to come back to each one 15 of these. But, again, the key, key view in my mind is that 16 any one of these -- if we knocked out any one of these, Your 17 Honor, we wouldn't be able to -- for this Plan to be 18 successful, we wouldn't be able to confirm this Plan. I 19 think that they're all integrally tied together. And if you 20 knock one out, I think you knock out the whole thing. So, 21 Your Honor, let me go next to the next slide, please.

22           And, again, just to -- and this is the slide that 23 we've probably shown at every hearing, that nine percent is 24 primarily composed of three individual predecessors. And 25 I'll get to that next time. But in essence, we have

1 resolved all but nine percent of our liability. If you go 2 to the next slide.

3 And, Your Honor, I had this in the -- in our 4 opening, and this kind of -- and I'll go through each one of 5 these transactions, but I think the evidence, you know, 6 overwhelmingly establishes that we will be able to address 7 the asset retirement obligations, that we will be able to 8 accomplish the goals of the Plan.

9 And, Your Honor, basically what we have left, if 10 you go to the very far right at the bottom in the abandoned 11 properties, we have the remaining predecessors, and those 12 are principally, you know, three large, multinational energy 13 companies with a combined -- with a market cap of 93 14 billion, 28 billion, and 272 billion combined that are the 15 ones that are objecting to the Plan for having to respond to 16 joint and several liability that they had before Fieldwood
17 was ever Fieldwood, Your Honor. This is not a situation 18 where this liability is something that is new to them.
19 They've had this liability. They are jointly and severally 20 liable. That's what happens when you operate in the Gulf.
21 And those are in essence the three main predecessor
22 objectors to the Plan. Next slide, please.

23 Your Honor, I'm going to only focus on the areas
24 that I thought were contested in terms of the Evidentiary
25 Record. I think many of the other items are probably more

1 legal argument. And I neglected to say, Your Honor, that 2 I'm going to address the evidence, Ms. Liou is going to 3 address the legal issues, and Mr. Carlson will address any 4 questions with respect to the Order. And I think on a 5 couple of things Ms. Choi will address them. But I'm going 6 to focus -- I'm focusing on the evidence.

7           So, Your Honor, again, I think the evidence 8 overwhelmingly demonstrates that we've complied with 1129
9 and that the Plan should be confirmed. I'm only going to 10 really focus on a couple of three prongs of 1129 which there 11 was actually evidence or, you know, there was something with 12 respect to whether we had met our evidentiary burden.

13           And I think the first one, Your Honor, is whether 14 we satisfied the adequate assurances provision of 365. And, 15 again, I think there -- and I'll get to it when I get to 16 credit bid NewCo, but I think again the uncontroverted
17 testimony from Mr. Dane is that there will be sufficient 18 resources in order to satisfy, and that there's really no 19 question that as it relates to the contracts that will be 20 assumed, that those -- that that Credit Bid Purchaser will 21 be able to perform.

22           Second, Your Honor, I think that there was 23 allegations that the Plan was not proposed in good faith. I
24 frankly think that, you know, the definition of good faith
25 is does the Plan address what it's intended to address.

1 Here, the Plan very clearly intended to address the ARO, 2 intended to create a sustainable entity, intended to 3 preserve the jobs. And all of the things that it was 4 intended to do, I think the Plan addresses. And I think 5 that meets the good faith standard.

6 Your Honor, there has also been questions about 7 1129(a)(11). And, Your Honor, I'll address that in the 8 context of all of the various entities. But, Your Honor, 9 again, I think that we provide a means to address all of the 10 various objectives of the Plan, and that to that extent I 11 think the Plan complies with 1129(a)(11).

12 Finally, Your Honor, there were seven other 13 secured creditors that were -- that objected, and so we 14 would have to cram them down. And, again, I think the 15 uncontroverted testimony from Mr. Green was that we would be 16 able to do that based on the estimate of their claims and 17 the reserves that we had set up. So again I think the 18 Evidentiary Record is that we would be able to meet the 19 cramdown. So if you turn to the next page, please.

20 So with respect to an asset sale, Your Honor, 21 which is what we're doing with credit purchaser -- and let 22 me just digress here for a minute because -- and I believe 23 Ms. Liou is going to really address this. But, you know, 24 the premise and the fundamental aspect of this Plan is that 25 Credit Bid Purchaser is willing to provide $105 million of 1 cash, is willing to assume all the working capital 2 liability, is willing to provide the credit support for the 3 various activities, is willing to do all of the things that 4 it's willing to do so that we can make, you know, Fieldwood 5 Three successful, so that Fieldwood Four can implement, if 6 in fact they get the assets free and clear of liens, claims, 7 and encumbrances. And that's the fundamental premise. And 8 that is an aspect of this that is kind of at the heart of 9 what I think, you know, disputed. It's the -- it's what 10 does it mean to have an asset sale free and clear of liens

11 versus, you know, what are the other potential obligations 12 and what, in essence, is right and that's really the heart 13 of the issue here.

14 But clearly in terms of the intended purchase, can 15 Credit Bid Purchaser close this transaction? And I think 16 the evidence is overwhelmingly yes. You know, we looked at 17 the sources and uses with Mr. Dane yesterday. There was at 18 the -- even at the high end and at an average cash, not at 19 the high cash, we were -- at the high end of expenses and at 20 an average cash, not the high cash, this -- we were 21 comfortably able to make all of the Plan payments that were 22 needed at exit, as well as the reserves. So there's no 23 question but that they can accomplish this. If you turn to 24 the next slide.

25 You know, we actually don't think that 1129(a)(11)

1 applies to the Credit Bid Purchaser on the other side.
2 Nevertheless, Your Honor, I think the uncontroverted 3 evidence is that even in the scenario, I mean, where they 4 don't drill, Mr. Dane testified that that was one of the 5 most attractive cash positions. The Credit Bid Purchaser is 6 going to generate cash. They're -- it -- they're going to, 7 you know, this company is going to, you know, be valued at 8 in excess of a billion dollars. And it will be a standalone 9 independent oil and gas company. So you turn to the next 10 page.

11 And, again, we don't think this is applicable.
12 But if you turn to the -- they're going to be well-
13 capitalized. They're only going to have about 300 million 14 of funded debt. They're going to have a -- they're going to 15 raise 40 million in equity, which is quite astounding.
16 They're going to have at least -- up to 120 million on the 17 balance sheet but at least a hundred million on the balance 18 sheet.

19 They're going to have significant cashflow and -- 20 in the hundreds of millions. That's what exhibit page eight 21 of nine shows as it related to them. And as Mr. Dane 22 testified, if you stop the drilling, that they would also 23 have, you know, significant cashflow and that that was a 24 very attractive -- that was also very attractive, you know, 25 business Plan and depending on what the owners decided to 1 do.

2 In addition, Your Honor, it has the bonding
3 capability to go forward on an ongoing basis to the extent 4 that, you know, people were alleging that somehow that was a 5 bar.

6 But, Your Honor, in addition to the significant, 7 and I mean significant, support the Credit Bid Purchaser is 8 providing in order for us -- in order for Fieldwood to 9 emerge from bankruptcy, to confirm this Plan, including the 10 cash, the assumption of the working capital, the other 11 agreements with Fieldwood Three and Fieldwood Four, I think, 12 Your Honor, that this company on a standalone basis, even if 13 we had to meet that test, there's no question based on the 14 evidence that it complies.

15 Let me then turn to Fieldwood One. And 16 fortunately, Your Honor, I'm not going to dwell on Fieldwood
17 One. But the issue here, and I think we've largely resolved 18 that as a result of the agreement with Apache and with the 19 Apache sureties, but the purpose of Fieldwood One, as 20 testified to by Mr. Graham, is to decommission, maximize 21 cashflow, and then wind this company down. It's going to be 22 done over a period of time. And at least in a -- 23 Mr. Graham, you know, has indicated that the way his 24 contract works, has to stay here for five years in order to 25 accomplish the goals of that contract. And so we're really

1 talking about a situation where I think now largely 2 uncontested we think that Fieldwood One would be, you know, 3 accomplishes the goals that it's intended to accomplish.

4           Then let's turn to Fieldwood Four. And Fieldwood
5 Four again is to wind down the legacy Chevron properties, 6 CUSA properties primarily, and many of the Noble properties.
7 And, again, they -- we're -- that is being done pursuant to 8 a fixed -- a turnkey contract with Credit Bid Purchaser that 9 Mr. Dane testified to. And here we have a situation where 10 we have one of the most sophisticated energy companies that 11 has -- that currently has joint and several liability that 12 will be paying the amounts in a situation where there are 13 significant conditions that would adjust the turnkey price, 14 depending on factors beyond everyone's control. So if you 15 turn to the next page.

16           The Credit Bid Purchaser will decommission the 17 legacy CUSA property pursuant to that turnkey agreement.
18 And the -- in essence, protects that exit. Money will come 19 from Credit Bid Purchaser to fund the 15 -- the five million 20 in cash contribution. And then in addition, there'll be 21 another 14 million that at one time had been scheduled to go 22 into Fieldwood Three that now is going into Fieldwood Four 23 to plug and abandon certain assets in which Chevron had been 24 a predecessor in interest. So I think that the evidence 25 obviously in my mind overwhelmingly demonstrates that

1 Fieldwood Four with all those factors will be able to 2 accomplish what it's intended to accomplish.

3 Then additionally, Your Honor, if you turn the 4 page, we have the other existing consensual deals with Eni
5 and with Hunt, and these again we have turnkey agreements
6 pursuant to which most of the Hunt work is being done
7 currently simply, you know, because we had a current permit 8 to actually do the work. And that will be done currently.

9 And then with respect to Eni, we have a agreement 10 where they will fund up to $57 million, and the work will be 11 done. And in each one of those, the money coming from 12 Credit Bid Purchaser at exit will fund a contribution to the 13 -- those amounts.

14 Finally, Your Honor, we get to -- if you go to the 15 next page, we get to Fieldwood Three. And Fieldwood Three 16 obviously is the balance of the bucket. But as a result of 17 moving some of the assets from Fieldwood Three to Fieldwood 18 Four, the remaining -- and I think the testimony was that 19 the credit support was up to $12 million, including five 20 million in cash at exit and an additional amount, an 21 additional seven million amount, that would be provided from 22 Credit Bid Purchaser. But I think Mr. Dane's testimony, 23 again uncontroverted, was that the post-effective date 24 liability was approximately $7 million, and that there were 25 $4 million of bonds to accomplish this. So, again, you

1 know, these are assets that the -- that a -- that Fieldwood
2 and the lenders in connection with, you know, the proposals
3 made to the Government decided that they were going to offer
4 to plug and abandon these assets in Fieldwood Three.

5 And then finally, Your Honor, if you go to the 6 next slide, I'm going to turn to the abandoned properties 7 because this is obviously as we sit today where most of the 8 dissent exists. So, number one, and I'm sure we'll hear 9 from Mr. Balasko, but the Government does not object to the 10 Plan. The company has done significant work, made 11 significant concessions, and has done, you know, a lot of 12 discussion and made proposals to the Government in order to 13 be in a position where the Government does not object.
14 That's not where we found ourselves at the disclosure 15 statement hearing. That's not in essence at the time when 16 the Court directed us to address the Government's concerns.
17 That's what we did and that's what we accomplished, Your 18 Honor.

19 So one of the key aspects of the proposals that 20 we've made to the Government which have resulted in their 21 not objecting, first, Your Honor, is the transition services 22 for the specified abandoned properties. And, again, at 23 Docket Number 697 of the Plan, Sections 513 in Exhibit A, 24 which have the -- in fact what the agreed activities are -- 25 and, Your Honor, this includes the safeguarding of the day-

1 to-day operational monitoring, maintaining egress of 2 pollution inspections, and to ensure, you know, proper 3 response. And, yes, the exhibit and what was testified to 4 is that Fieldwood, you know, is abandoning these properties.
5 They are agreeing to undertake these transition services, 6 they are agreeing to respond to the -- to, you know, certain 7 events. But because these are abandoned properties, to the 8 extent that the events are, in essence, in excess of what 9 the Government and Fieldwood agreed to, those are not 10 necessarily for our account and they're not at our cost.
11 But it's not a situation we meet the Midlantic standards 12 because there isn't going to be any slip between the lip and 13 the cup. We are going to provide, to respond. And the 14 responsible, you know, the party that the property's 15 abandoned to will obviously be responsible for that.

16 Your Honor, in addition to the transition services 17 which really, --

18 THE COURT: Yeah, --

19 MR. PEREZ: -- you know, the core of --

20 THE COURT: -- Mr. Perez, I'm not sure that's the 21 Midlantic standard. And I just think the Midlantic standard 22 is actually less than what you have described, not more than 23 what you've described. But I want to be sure --

24 MR. PEREZ: I --

25 THE COURT: -- that parties are aware --

1 MR. PEREZ: Oh, I --

2 THE COURT: -- of what I think it is. The --

3 MR. PEREZ: Yes.

4 THE COURT: A Debtor --

5 MR. PEREZ: Yes.

6 THE COURT: -- under the Bankruptcy Code can 7 abandon an environmentally troubled property and does not 8 under the Bankruptcy Code then have a duty to provide the 9 transition services or to respond at all or after is 10 abandoned to provide any support.

11 However, the Supreme Court has held that the 12 environmental concerns that both State and local Governments 13 can have may preclude the Debtor from engaging in the 14 abandonment. But if the abandonment is not precluded by the 15 Government's concerns, then frankly I don't think that I am 16 charged with assuring that post-abandonment that the 17 response will be proper. That's Mr. Balasko's problem.
18 Now, the fact that he has solved that with the deal with you 19 is fine with me. But you're sort of saying that in order to 20 meet Midlantic, that the Court needs to be assured of what 21 the future environmental issues are.

22 I don't think that's what the Bankruptcy Code 23 says. And I just want it clear the way that I'm going to be 24 applying the law, unless somebody can persuade me that I am 25 wrong about this. But I don't think it's the standard that

1 you're setting up. I don't think that the Government is 2 going to agree to allow the abandonment unless they have a
3 solution to these things. That's their decision. And I
4 don't think under Midlantic I look behind their decision.
5 So a little different than what you're describing. And I 6 think it may matter in terms of where this deal goes.

7 MR. PEREZ: Thank you, Your Honor.

8 And we actually -- I think we agree that the 9 Midlantic standard is, you know, imminent harm. And but I
10 think what we're doing here is just to take this issue off 11 the table, you know, we've entered into a nine-month 12 Transition Services Agreement. And, remember, primarily for 13 these three very substantial companies that have, you know, 14 predecessor liability we've entered into this transition 15 services to really take anything having to do with Midlantic 16 off the table. It's not -- it -- I agree with you, Your 17 Honor, that it goes way beyond Midlantic. To the extent 18 that --

19 THE COURT: But I guess I'm telling --

20 MR. PEREZ: -- in my view we --

21 THE COURT: -- you and I'm telling others, I do 22 not intend to review the Transition Services Agreement or 23 the agreed activities to determine if I think it's feasible, 24 if I think it works, if I think it's adequate. The Code 25 allows abandonment. Abandonment can be precluded by

1 environmental regulators. But if it isn't, the 2 environmental regulators may need to worry about that. And 3 I don't -- the Court doesn't babysit them. You know, it's 4 just a different story. I mean, you could even be in a 5 potential situation, which I've been in in some other cases, 6 where the Government actually will take over the cleanup and 7 allow an abandonment in exchange for a huge amount of money
8 going to solve the problem that they wouldn't otherwise 9 have.

10           They just get to make a decision as to what's best 11 for them. And it's like me looking behind somebody's vote 12 to say, well, you know, I think that was kind of a foolish 13 vote, they voted for the Plan, they could have held out for 14 a better deal. You know, no. And I'm not looking if 15 they're in support of the Plan. I'm looking at whether 16 they're going to veto the Plan is what I'm looking at at the 17 Government. If they choose not to veto the Plan on an 18 environmental bases, then that's their choice and I am not 19 going to be second-guessing the Government's decision. So I 20 don't care -- the fact that you may want to try and persuade 21 me of that is not going to help your case.

22           You may want it on appeal in case I'm wrong about 23 that. But I'm not looking at the issue that you're 24 describing. And I'm for better or for worse --

25           MR. PEREZ: Well, thank you -- okay, thank you,

1 Your Honor. Then I think we should have -- this slide
2 should have stopped after the first bullet. The Government 3 does not object to the Plan. Okay. I blame Mr. Carlson for 4 the balance so --

5 THE COURT: Look, you're welcome to talk about it.
6 I just -- I don't want others --

7 MR. PEREZ: No, no, no, I look --

8 THE COURT: -- believing that the standard that 9 you're announcing is a standard that I think is one that I'm 10 going to adopt. And I'm --

11 MR. PEREZ: I'm not suggesting at all that this is 12 the standard you should adopt. All I'm saying, Your Honor, 13 is that the Government doesn't object and here are the 14 things that we have done to address their concerns. And 15 that's the extent of my --

16 THE COURT: I thought you --

17 MR. PEREZ: -- remarks, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: I thought you crossed the line from 19 saying not only are these the things we've done to address 20 their concerns but the things that you've done to address 21 their concerns will work. And I'm not willing to cross the 22 bridge into whether they'll work.

23 MR. PEREZ: Okay. Understood, Your Honor. So, 24 Your Honor, I think in terms of the evidentiary support for 25 meeting the requirements of 1129, Your Honor, I think that

1 I've gone through kind of the areas that were contested and 2 the areas that I believe that the evidence overwhelmingly 3 supports confirmation of the Plan large -- based largely on 4 what appears to be an uncontested Record.

5           So with that, Your Honor, let me turn it over to 6 Ms. Liou who will address the legal issues that have been 7 raised. To the extent the Court has any evidentiary issues, 8 obviously I'll be happy to address them at an appropriate
9 time. But I think that in terms of meeting the evidentiary 10 basis for meeting the 1129 standard on a substantially 11 uncontested Record, we have done. And I've highlighted the 12 areas where there was some concern or some, you know, 13 allegation that we didn't meet the Evidentiary Record, Your 14 Honor.

15           THE COURT: So if this is for Ms. Liou to do or 16 for Mr. Carlson to do, that's fine. But who is going to 17 handle the question of third-party versus third-party 18 rights; is that by you, by Ms. Liou, by Mr. Carlson?

19           MR. PEREZ: Ms. Liou.

20           THE COURT: All right. Ms. Liou, if you would 21 press five star one time on your phone, please? There we 22 go. Thank you.

23           From 862-228-0079, is that you, Ms. Liou?

24           MS. LIOU: Yes, that is me. Apologies, give us 25 one minute to work through some technical difficulties.

1 THE COURT: Of course.

2 MS. LIOU: Your Honor, I have to apologize. The 3 vagaries of technology, we had a fancy setup here and I'm 4 now talking through an iPhone.

5 Good morning, Your Honor. Jessica Liou from Weil
6 Gotshal & Manges on behalf of the Fieldwood Debtors.

7 Notwithstanding the Record that we set on the 8 first day of the hearing in terms of the number of opening 9 arguments presented and the number of objections filed for 10 our Plan, I think that after three days of hearings and many 11 good faith discussions that the Debtors have had with the 12 many parties in this case over the last several days, there 13 really are only two main contested legal issues in this 14 case. I think Mr. Perez has done a pretty good job of 15 covering the first. And frankly there isn't much that I 16 would add regarding the point about compliance with Section 17 1129(a)(11) of the Bankruptcy Code.

18 But I will comment on the fact that in connection 19 with the sources and uses, the sources that we are talking 20 about for the Debtors' restructuring are sources coming from 21 fully committed, Court-approved, binding commitments or 22 backstops associated with the $119 million of debt, proceeds 23 funded through the first lien exit facility, and up to $185
24 million in proceeds funded through the second lien exit 25 facility, and the $40 million of proceeds funded through the 1 equity rights offering that will be coming in the door and 2 coming over to the Debtors as consideration of a part of the 3 credit bid transaction to fund the Chapter 11 cases, pay

4 creditors, and capitalize Credit Bid Purchaser for future 5 success.

6 I'd like to cover the second issue which deals 7 with the appropriateness and the scope of the releases, 8 exculpations, and discharge under the Plan. As apparent 9 from some of the opening statements and the objections
10 filed, there remain I think a few conceptual
11 misunderstandings about what the Plan does and is intended 12 to do, which I'd like to clear up today. Although the Plan 13 seeks to achieve an extraordinary result in terms of the 14 sheer complexity and magnitude of the restructuring, its 15 release, exculpation, and discharge provisions are fairly 16 standard.

17 So what does the Plan actually provide for? It 18 does provide for discharge of prepetition claims. It does 19 not, as some have said or suggested, discharge post-petition 20 claims or post-effective date obligations unless there is a 21 specific agreement between relevant parties pursuant to a 22 settlement. In section 2.1 of the Plan in particular, 23 there's provision for administrative expense claims. And 24 any ordinary course administrative expense claim that's 25 incurred by the Debtor effectively gets satisfied in the 1 ordinary course post-effective date as well to the extent 2 that it is not an obligation that's otherwise picked up by 3 Credit Bid Purchaser. To the extent that it is an 4 obligation that is assumed by Credit Bid Purchaser, as 5 Mr. Perez has indicated and as Mr. Dane has testified, it's 6 going to constitute the working capital that's assumed by 7 Credit Bid Purchaser and fully paid for pursuant to, you 8 know, the terms of the Credit Bid Purchase agreement and in 9 the ordinary course.

10           The Plan does provide for clear voluntary third-11 party releases that have been broad notice. What it does 12 not provide for are non-consensual releases of third 13 parties. And I'll come back to that point in a little bit.

14           The third item, the Plan does provide for a 15 process under which the Debtors may assume, assume and 16 assign or assume and allocate executory contracts. But it 17 does not, either through that process or any other 18 provision, provide for a blanket impairment, modification, 19 or alteration of the terms of any third-party agreement as 20 between non-Debtor parties.

21           And as the evidence demonstrated, in particular 22 the surety bonds, they will continue to exist and be 23 outstanding. Any indemnification claim that arises against 24 the Debtor as discussed, so those agreements will be treated 25 in accordance with the terms of the Plan like any other

1 claim against the Debtors. And in fact, Your Honor, the 2 Debtors have worked with multiple parties over the course of 3 the last several days to include reservations of rights
4 language in the proposed Confirmation Order that makes this 5 abundantly clear.

6           Next, on the exculpation. As I will explain later
7 in further detail, the Plan does provide for appropriately
8 tailored exculpations for certain non-estate fiduciaries 9 based upon the substantial contributions made by those 10 parties integral to the success of this restructuring. It 11 does not, again, provide for non-consensual releases to the 12 third-party.

13           THE COURT: What are the exculpation, --

14           MS. LIOU: (Glitch in the audio) --

15           THE COURT: -- what does it mean -- and maybe 16 you're going to show me this and, if so, that's fine -- the 17 exculpation provisions that exculpate obligations under 18 prepetition agreements by third parties; how does that work?

19           MS. LIOU: Which prepetition agreements by third 20 parties, Your Honor, are in particular?

21           THE COURT: Well, you have the -- there's a 22 definition that then got carried forward into the 23 exculpation provision and it defines as some of what is 24 exculpated will be some prepetition agreements. Is there 25 any exculpation with respect to any prepetition agreement?

1 MS. LIOU: I believe Your Honor may be referring 2 to the confusion around the defined term for "additional 3 predecessor agreements."

4 THE COURT: Yes.

5 MS. LIOU: That term relates solely to agreements
6 struck by the Debtor during the course of the Chapter 11 7 cases with other predecessors prior to confirmation in 8 support of the Plan. And so, for example, that defined term 9 solely relates to Apache, Hunt, Eni, and Chevron. The 10 additional predecessor agreements are the agreements between 11 the Debtors and each of those respective parties.

12 THE COURT: What about prepetition agreements with 13 those parties?

14 MS. LIOU: There -- the exculpation does not cover 15 the scope of those prepetition agreements, Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: And where do I get clarity on that?
17 Because when I read it, I thought it did. I accept your 18 statement to me but there was going to be some language 19 added that made that clear. Is that now clear in the 20 Confirmation Order?

21 MS. LIOU: I believe it's clear, Your Honor, as 22 it's written; although we are happy to consider potential 23 language. But let me explain why I believe it's clear. We 24 had indicated in the Plan that as a part of the Plan 25 supplement, we would file the additional predecessor

1 agreements. And we have done that.

2 THE COURT: And you're telling me there are no
3 additional predecessor agreements that were in existence 4 prepetition.

5 MS. LIOU: I'm sure that there were other 6 agreements between the parties prepetition but those are not 7 captured by the defined term and those were not agreements 8 that were filed as part of the Plan supplement.

9 THE COURT: Sorry. I meant as the defined term,
10 and my bad wording choice. You're telling me at this point 11 additional predecessor agreements include no prepetition
12 agreements.

13 MS. LIOU: Correct.

14 THE COURT: Okay.

15 MS. LIOU: Correct, at this point. Your Honor, 16 that's absolutely correct. If what you would like us to do 17 is add a word to the definition of "additional predecessor 18 agreements" to indicate that it constitutes solely post-19 petition agreements that the Debtors have entered into, I 20 think that that would probably be acceptable for the 21 parties. I'll have to make sure but that seems to me to be 22 a non-controversial change.

23 THE COURT: And have you added any language -- and 24 I haven't looked at what you've done in your Confirmation 25 Order. I want to be certain that the exculpations will be

1 applied only in a manner that is consistent with the Fifth 2 Circuit's Pacific Lumber opinion. So the language may be 3 fine so long as -- because it says in accordance with 4 applicable law or language to that effect. I want it to 5 specifically say that the exculpations are limited to 6 exculpations that are permitted under Pacific Lumber. Is 7 there any problem with that?

8 MS. LIOU: Not from the Debtors' perspective, Your 9 Honor.

10 THE COURT: Okay. Go ahead then.

11 MS. LIOU: The last -- excuse me. The last set of 12 topics that I'd like to cover are the treatment of the 13 sureties, Your Honor. The Plan does provide the Debtors the 14 ability to allocate their own property interest as a 15 beneficiary under certain bonds to different entities. But 16 very importantly, and this is a very, very important 17 distinction because I think there was a lot of confusion
18 that arose out of this, the Plan does not allocate, 19 transfer, or provide any surety bond to any entity under the 20 Plan under which the Debtor is a principal. I think that 21 was also made very clear by Mr. Dane's testimony.

22 The Plan and the credit bid transactions do 23 provide that credit bid-acquired assets will be sold free 24 and clear of claims, liens, and interests. But as Your 25 Honor noted yourself on the first day, that is permitted by 1 Section 363 of the Bankruptcy Code.

2 I'd like to now focus a little bit more on the 3 consensual third-party releases.

4 THE COURT: Before we go there, the other sort of 5 big issue back on the prior page that we spent a lot of time 6 on are subrogation rights or duties that might exist with 7 respect to properties that are being sold. Do you want to 8 tell me what your -- and you may remember the colloquy of 9 subrogation rights as to the Government since we could in 10 fact have allowed an abandonment or allowed a sale free and 11 clear. And the issue that I raised was can we go ahead and 12 leave the Government in place, but since without the 13 Government in place there wouldn't have been subrogation 14 rights, still cut off subrogation rights? What is the 15 Debtors' argument on that issue?

16 MS. LIOU: So, Your Honor, we actually have 17 specific --

18 THE COURT: You need a minute? We'll take a 19 minute.

20 MS. LIOU: (Coughing.)

21 THE COURT: Why don't you take a minute?

22 MS. LIOU: No, I'm sorry (glitch in the audio).
23 Everybody else that I've been working with knows that I have 24 this persistent cough.

25 Section 513 of the Plan actually has some language

1 that addresses this, Your Honor, which we heavily negotiated
2 with the RSA parties and this also with the Government.

3 THE COURT: Five point --

4 MS. LIOU: And it does provide that --

5 THE COURT: So I need to look at 5.13 to answer 6 that. Let me just open that.

7 MS. LIOU: Okay.

8 THE COURT: I want to understand exactly what 9 you're telling me you think I can do so that I'm going to 10 understand the arguments of others that say that I can't do 11 it.

12 MS. LIOU: Sure.

13 THE COURT: Let me open the Plan. Okay. I'm 14 looking at 5.13.

15 MS. LIOU: Subparagraph "A," Your Honor.

16 THE COURT: Okay.

17 MS. LIOU: It's in this Plan.

18 (Pause in the proceeding.)

19 THE COURT: So, again, this is clarity. I want to 20 be sure I understand it. So a surety -- I'm looking at the 21 very last clause. So a surety furnishes a bond to the 22 United States and pays on that bond. Are they subrogated to 23 the United States' financial recovery rights against anyone?

24 MS. LIOU: I think the answer depends, Your Honor.
25 What the Plan does is it preserves whatever subrogation

1 rights they may have had at that time if those bonds are 2 drawn. I don't think we're making a determination at this 3 point in time, and the Plan certainly doesn't prescribe one 4 way or another whether or not those surety parties would 5 lose their subrogation rights or gain extra rights.

6 What we wanted to do was put this back to a mutual 7 position and make very clear that the Plan is not interring 8 their ability to assert a subrogation right post the draw of 9 the bond that occurs post-effective date.

10 THE COURT: So should that eventuality occur, the 11 surety may assert a financial subrogation right to the 12 Government, and any party or non-party may contest that 13 subrogation right.

14 MS. LIOU: That's correct, Your Honor.

15 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

16 MS. LIOU: Your Honor, I think we've covered
17 expenses, so I don't know that we need to dwell on it but I 18 did want to go to the third-party release provision slide.
19 As the evidence demonstrates and as the docket also 20 demonstrates, the third-party release provisions are fully 21 consensual and they were exclusively noticed. This Court 22 had approved our process for noticing out the ballots, which 23 included the provisions of the releases in them, and 24 approved the notice of the confirmation -- also has 25 provisions, copies of the releases in them as well. It was 1 very expensive.

2 THE COURT: Yeah. I'm --

3 MS. LIOU: -- all of the (glitch in the audio) --

4 THE COURT: -- actually not aware of anyone that 5 has objected to the third-party releases except for people
6 that opted out of them. And people that opted out of them
7 of course aren't bound by them. Am I missing something?

8 MS. LIOU: Okay.

9 THE COURT: Is there an objection by any party to 10 the third-party release that is the ones that -- has anybody
11 objected to third-party release that also then didn't opt 12 out of it? Because I didn't think we did.

13 MS. LIOU: Your Honor, I'm not aware of any party 14 who has not affirmatively opted out or made clear to the 15 Debtors by filing an opt-out notice on the docket that they 16 have opted out.

17 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

18 MS. LIOU: I will take that as a not so subtle 19 hint to move on --

20 THE COURT: Well, I'm just -- I'm not sure --

21 MS. LIOU: -- to the next slide.

22 THE COURT: -- why I care about something that no
23 one is objecting to when the Fifth Circuit has said you 24 could do a consensual third-party release and, I mean, which 25 they have. There is always an issue as to whether opt-in,

1 opt-out is correct. And I understand that issue. People
2 can argue whether we meet the Fifth Circuit. But if no
3 one's arguing against it, I'm not sure why I want to spend a 4 lot of time on it. I want to be sure that people that want
5 to opt out have opted out. And I don't think anyone's --

6 MS. LIOU: Yeah.

7 THE COURT: -- objecting who didn't also opt out 8 and which I'm not a -- I don't understand the issue if 9 that's where we are. So --

10 MS. LIOU: Your Honor, we addressed it simply 11 because it was raised as an objection. But I completely 12 agree with your position which is folks had the opportunity 13 to opt out. And to the extent that they did exercise that 14 right to opt out, then they are not forced to provide these 15 releases to third parties under the Plan.

16 THE COURT: It's more that I think that right now 17 no one that is objecting didn't also opt out. And that's 18 slightly different than what you're saying. But someone 19 that opted out can't then come in and say you shouldn't have 20 given us the option to participate in a third-party release.
21 I mean, it didn't hurt them to get the option to 22 participate. So -- and I don't think we have anyone like 23 that that's doing it so --

24 MS. LIOU: Yes. I think if we do, they should be 25 at the proper hearing, but I am not aware of any party who

1 has complained about these releases and has not already 2 opted out.

3           So, Your Honor, I think we can move on to the next 4 slide which deals with the exculpation provisions. As I
5 mentioned before, in our view the exculpation provision sets 6 a standard of care, it's not really a release per se for the 7 conduct during the Chapter 11 cases, the acts arising out of 8 the restructuring itself. The exculpation certainly covers 9 Debtors' estates and creditors' Committee and members of the 10 creditors' Committee. But it also covers certain non-11 fiduciaries who nevertheless were incredibly integral to the 12 Plan process.

13           As Mr. Perez has already explained, each of those 14 parties participated in one aspect or another in ensuring 15 the success of this restructuring, whether providing some 16 form of exit financing, negotiating relevant documents and 17 providing the voting support needed to get the Plan 18 confirmed, or negotiating with us like the predecessors, the 19 relevant predecessors, did on very complex arrangements 20 under which they would effectively work consensually with 21 the Debtors and the Credit Bid Purchaser to address much of 22 the decommissioning obligations that are present here, over 23 90 percent of the decommissioning obligations that are 24 present in this case.

25           THE COURT: What happens --

1 MS. LIOU: The parties acted --

2 THE COURT: -- what happens if there is a future
3 dispute over the exculpation provision? Is it coming back 4 here for a decision as to whether the dispute is within or 5 outside of the exculpation, or is that not addressed in the 6 Confirmation Order?

7 MS. LIOU: Your Honor, I would expect that because 8 the exculpation provisions are a part of the Plan, they 9 would be addressed before this Court at the time, and if a 10 dispute were to arise regarding the scope of the 11 exculpation.

12 THE COURT: So when you draft the language that 13 I've asked you to draft that deals with Pacific Lumber, I 14 want to be certain that there is a gatekeeping function so 15 that, for example, no one uses the exculpation when they 16 shouldn't be using it. And if we were to determine that 17 some action is not exculpated, then I don't want somebody 18 trying to defend on something where they claim it's 19 exculpated -- or vice-versa. You know, if somebody got 20 exculpated, they shouldn't be sued at all for the 21 exculpation. So include a gate keeping function to be sure 22 that Pacific Lumber is fully and faithfully adhered to.

23 MS. LIOU: We will do so, Your Honor

24 THE COURT: Thank you.

25 MS. LIOU: I did also want to point out that there

1 is carved intentional fraud, unlawful conduct and that 2 generally the exculpation, in our views, are a pretty common
3 feature in complex cases like this. And the purpose of it 4 is obvious, because there are many parties who can work with 5 the Debtor to arrive at consensual arrangements, which are 6 to the benefit of all the creditors in the case, and 7 maximize value for the Debtors' estate. And by allowing 8 those parties to be exculpated protects -- the exculpation 9 you facilitate the consensual process, that I think 10 Chapter 11 is designed hold.

11 Your Honor, with that I think we can turn to the 12 next slide. I don't necessarily belabor the point, because 13 I know Mr. Brescia did a really great job of laying out each 14 of these parties provided in their own unique way support
15 for the Plan and how that value was integral to the success 16 of the restructuring. And how like a four-legged stool, if 17 you pull one leg out, the stool is not going to stand.

18 THE COURT: I think we might call those 19 three-legged stools here in Texas, but that's okay.

20 MS. LIOU: Given the number of parties here I 21 opted for a four-legged stool.

22 Your Honor, lastly, I just want to make a couple 23 of points before I close. As we iterated throughout the 24 case, and I think as you've heard from Mike Dane in his 25 testimony, the Plan is designed to accomplish three very 1 important goals.

2           It was important from the beginning -- even before 3 the cases were filed that the Debtors be positioned to 4 withdraw all of their decommissioning obligations with as 5 little impact to the taxpayer as possible. This was an 6 important goal, not only of the Debtors but also of the 7 Government, and the Debtors have heeded that concern that 8 the Government had.

9           In addition this restructure maximizes value for 10 creditors. I think testimony -- uncontroverted testimony 11 was presented, but the alternatives really are potential for 12 (indiscernible) effectively. Chapter 7 liquidation or a 363 13 sale without this financing provided to ensure that the 14 Debtors were able to provide the coverage of creditors under 15 their Plan. I don't think it's a value maximizing 16 proposition for all of the parties in this case.

17           And last thing I think, most importantly from the 18 Debtors' perspective, it does preserve thousands of jobs and 19 it preserves the Debtors' deepwater business. It is in line 20 with the rehabilitative purposes of Chapter 11 and they have 21 an opportunity for a fresh start.

22           And I know that it has been an incredibly long 23 odyssey for management, especially who have been extremely 24 dedicated to working nights, weekends and as you saw from 25 the dedications Mr. Dane testified all day on Monday. They

1 are eager to emerge from Chapter 11. They are eager to have 2 that fleshed out, the Chapter 11 offer, and look forward to 3 the future of successfully continuing their operations in 4 the Gulf of Mexico.

5 And with that, Your Honor, I think we would press
6 our case ask that you confirm the Chapter 11 Plan.

7 THE COURT: Ms. Liou, thank you.

8 Mr. Carlson, will you be ready to address the 9 Confirmation Order issues at 3:00 o'clock?

10 I'm not seeing Mr. Carlson. Hold on. There we 11 go.

12 Mr. Carlson, will you be ready to address the 13 Confirmation Order issues at 3:00 o'clock?

14 MR. CARLSON: Yes, Your Honor. I will. We are 15 continuing to work with several different parties on 16 provisions even as this hearing is ongoing and will be ready 17 to address any questions that the Court has and to kind of 18 give a status update on where we are with various parties 19 and negotiating language and finalizing it.

20 THE COURT: All right. If the parties that will 21 oppose even after whatever deals get made by Mr. Carlson, 22 can we organize how those opposing arguments will be -- have 23 you-all decided who's going first, second, third, things 24 like that? It will take a minute just to get the afternoon 25 organized.

1 UNIDENTIFIED MALE: No, Your Honor. We haven't 2 yet finalized Order --

3 THE COURT: Well, no, that's for others to see how 4 they've organized it.

5 Let's see, Mr. Schaible, I thought you were not 6 going to be opposing, but maybe you're going to surprise me.

7 MR. SCHAIBLE: I'm not opposing, Your Honor. I 8 would like to just ask for a few minutes at 3:00 o'clock if 9 that's okay, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Of course. Did you want to go before 11 or after Mr. Carlson?

12 MR. SCHAIBLE: After Mr. Carlson is always a heavy 13 opportunity, I think I should go after Mr. Carlson.

14 THE COURT: Okay. That's fine.

15 Mr. Balasko.

16 MR. BALASKO: Thank you, Your Honor. Zach Balasko
17 for the Department of the Interior.

18 Like Mr. Schaible, I would like just a brief 19 opportunity before the opponents go, to go over the reasons
20 why the Government has decided not to object to this Plan.

21 THE COURT: Of course, thank you, Mr. Balasko.

22 Mr. Pasquale.

23 MR. PASQUALE: Well, Your Honor, Ken Pasquale 24 Stroock and Stroock and Lavan for the Official Committee of 25 Unsecured Creditors.

1 I, too, will just have a very short statement if I 2 may.

3 THE COURT: Of course. Thank you.

4 Mr. Zuber.

5 MR. ZUBER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Yes.

6 Scott Zuber. I will have a little bit of argument when 7 everybody else is through on the proponent's side and 8 opponent on behalf of several surety clients.

9 THE COURT: All right. And are you planning to go
10 first Mr. Zuber, or will you work that out with the other 11 opponents? I don't care who goes first. Maybe between now 12 and 3:00 --

13 MR. ZUBER: I'm happy to --

14 THE COURT: -- you can work out an Order of who's 15 going to go first, second, third, et cetera, I'm not going 16 to cut anyone off.

17 MR. ZUBER: Sure. I'm happy to go first, and I'm 18 not sure at this point how many other sureties are planning 19 to make arguments, but we can try to coordinate that during 20 the recess. But I'm happy to go first if that works.

21 THE COURT: Why don't we do this? Let's take in 22 terms of opponents, we'll take all of the sureties, whoever 23 wants to make any statements, followed by predecessors-in-24 interest.

25 So do we have any predecessors-in-interest that

1 intend to make arguments?

2 Mr. Alaniz.

3 MR. ALANIZ: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Omar
4 Alaniz on behalf of the Hess Corporation.

5 Yes. We do intend to make a short closing
6 argument. And I did coordinate with BP and I believe BP 7 will be going first, but maybe they should just confirm.

8 THE COURT: Okay. Can I just get you-all to 9 coordinate on the predecessors so that we've got that 10 organized for this afternoon?

11 MR. ALANIZ: Sure. I don't know if the other 12 predecessors. I believe that counsel for Exxon and Marathon 13 made some opening statements and I wasn't sure if they were 14 going to make closing arguments, but I'll send an email out 15 to some of those parties and coordinate.

16 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

17 Mr. Kuebel.

18 MR. KUEBEL: Yes. Good afternoon, Your Honor.
19 Omer F. Kuebel, III, on behalf of McMoRan and its affiliates 20 and ConocoPhillips and its affiliates.

21 I certainly do intend to have closing arguments
22 directed almost exclusively to the scope of the exculpation
23 clause, Your Honor. I'm happy to slot in after BP and Hess, 24 or if anyone else wants to go forward.

25 And I do think that the guidance that Your Honor

1 has given on these issues, were they implemented in the 2 Confirmation Order, into language that we've requested, 3 would actually solve a lot of our objections. But for 4 whatever reason we have unfortunately not been able to 5 engage with the Debtor over the last few days over those 6 issues. But as of this moment, we certainly Plan to go 7 forward and address the breadth of the exculpation clauses
8 in the Plan.

9 THE COURT: So as you know, I've been known to put 10 an Order on the screen and put my own language in it, 11 Mr. Kuebel. I intend to do what I said I'm going to do 12 there. They don't have exclusive drafting rights on that 13 Confirmation Order. And I'm saying that for everyone's 14 benefit, so that, you know, maybe between now and 15 3:00 o'clock, Mr. Carlson and you can have a conversation.

16 MR. KUEBEL: We would certainly welcome that, Your 17 Honor.

18 THE COURT: Thank you.
19 From 713-374-3674.

20 MR. HUTTON: Your Honor, John Hutton on behalf of 21 BP.

22 Your Honor, I think we're prepared to move closing 23 arguments on all the issues raised. I think the scope of 24 what they present is potentially impacted by the language
25 that was filed last night with the proposed Confirmation

1 Order, which includes some of our language that we've 2 proposed. And I think, depending on some clarifications we 3 hope to get, to go a ways towards resolving it.

4 But I think it's subject to some ambiguity, but we 5 will seek to clarify. And if it means what we think it 6 means and accomplishes what we think it's intended to 7 accomplish, it may go a long way towards resolving our 8 issues, but that's something we would like to have the 9 opportunity to flesh out with the Debtors and have not had 10 that opportunity as of yet.

11 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

12 And finally, Ms. Rosen wanted to speak.

13 MS. ROSEN: Thank you, Your Honor. Suki Rosen on 14 behalf of XTO entities. We're in somewhat of the same boat.
15 We've been working with the Debtors on language for the 16 Confirmation Order and we've gotten close, there's a couple 17 of remaining issues and we're going to try to have a 18 conference with the Debtors this afternoon to try to resolve 19 those remaining issues.

20 THE COURT: Thank you.

21 I was wrong, you weren't last.

22 Mr. Eisenberg.

23 MR. EISENBERG: Thank you, Your Honor. I was 24 waiting for Ms. Guffy to chime in and she didn't, so I took 25 the opportunity.

1           Obviously, we coordinated with Mr. Kuebel and 2 Ms. Guffy, and Mr. Kuebel will go first for McMoRan a lot of 3 what he'll do obviously will also bear on our clients, W and 4 T, Merit, and ConocoPhillips. Ms. Guffy will be speaking on 5 the exculpations, as well, and I also be speaking, Your 6 Honor. But with regard to 513 -- and we did see the changes 7 they made last night -- we also will be speaking to the 8 language that the Debtors put into their proposed 9 Confirmation Order and will look forward to trying to work 10 that out between now and 3:00 o'clock if we can.

11           We've obviously proposed our own language, we will 12 have that available for the Court as well. There is some 13 confusions that we have with regard to contracts that are 14 executory contracts that have been assumed and are somehow 15 being affected.

16           And so, but we do appreciate Your Honor's guidance 17 and we do have that split up amongst ourselves today as 18 well.

19           THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

20           Ms. Archiyan.

21           MS. ARCHIYAN: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Yelena
22 Archiyan on behalf of the Energy Transfer affiliates.

23           Unfortunately, we have unable to come to a 24 resolution with counsel for the Debtors with respect to an 25 agreed form of language to be included in the Confirmation

1 Order. So I will also like to make a few statements at the 2 appropriate time. Our issue is a little different from the 3 issues that the sureties and predecessors-in-interest, so 4 I'm happy to wait until the very end or whenever you think 5 is appropriate.

6 THE COURT: That makes sense to me. Thank you.
7 Mr. Chiu.

8 MR. CHIU: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor. Kevin 9 Chiu, Baker Botts, on behalf of Hunt Oil Company and 10 subsidiaries.

11 Your Honor, we've been working as well with the 12 Debtors similarly to Mr. Carlson with regards to the 13 language in the Confirmation Order for the Hunt turnkey 14 agreements and the various provisions and terms under the 15 Hunt deal. I think we are certainly close, and we will work 16 closely with Mr. Carlson and his team to confirm a couple 17 things and making sure that the right documents are being 18 filed in front of Your Honor and the Court. But we 19 certainly do like to preserve our rights and if any items 20 need to be brought to your attention, we anticipate in doing 21 so this afternoon while Mr. Carlson is going through the 22 Confirmation Order.

23 THE COURT: Thank you.
24 Ms. Russell.

25 MS. RUSSELL: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Robin

1 Russell, Hunton Andrews Kurth, on behalf of Apache 2 Corporation.

3 We may have a very brief statement in support of 4 the Plan and the recently filed Apache surety term sheet.
5 We also have a few minor issues that we're working out on 6 the Confirmation Order, and we will do that with the Debtor 7 during our recess.

8 THE COURT: Thank you.

9 Mr. Dendinger. Mr. Dendinger.

10 MR. DENDINGER: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor. Good 11 afternoon, Mark Dendinger on behalf of Eni Petroleum US LLC
12 and Eni US Operating Co., Inc.

13 We've been working closely with the Debtors on 14 language to resolve the remaining concerns in the 15 Confirmation Order. We would simply like to reserve our 16 rights with regard to making any closing arguments if we 17 cannot resolve those concerns, but we expect to be able to 18 resolve them prior to confirmation of the Plan.

19 THE COURT: All right. Thank you for that 20 announcement.

21 Mr. Zeiger.

22 MR. ZEIGER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. It's 23 Jeffrey Zeiger, Kirkland and Ellis, on behalf of Atlantic 24 Maritime Services.

25 We filed a very limited objection that frankly has

1 been addressed based on comments during the hearing as well 2 as changes to the Plan since we filed. So I was going to 3 spend 30 seconds informing the Court of that, but since I
4 just did, I'm happy to handle it however you want. Less 5 than a minute at most, Your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Zeiger.

7 All right. Mr. Carlson, would you arrange to have 8 someone walk over here at 3:00 o'clock? It may be you know, 9 five after 3:00, they may walk in whenever it is they walk 10 in with a flash drive with the Word version of the 11 Confirmation Order, so that we're not just fighting -- me 12 fighting to try to get it in an editable form. I'll edit on 13 the word version, I'll put it up on the screen.

14 MR. CARLSON: Yes, Your Honor. We're happy to do 15 that.

16 THE COURT: All right. Thank you.

17 From 847-363-6644.

18 MR. KIND: Yes, Your Honor. This is Michael Kind 19 for the Cox entities.

20 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

21 MR. KIND: We wanted to also reserve the right to 22 make a short closing statement.

23 THE COURT: Thank you. At which point did you 24 want to have it?

25 MR. KIND: We're hoping to resolve our issues as

1 well, Your Honor, so we could go at the end. We're hoping 2 that others will cover some of our arguments, we might not 3 be able to -- we might not have to repeat a lot of what's 4 argued previously.

5 THE COURT: All right. I appreciate all the 6 announcements and all the work that's going into this. We 7 will adjourn --

8 MR. PEREZ: Your Honor?

9 THE COURT: Yes. Mr. Perez.

10 MR. PEREZ: Your Honor, this is Alfredo Perez. I 11 apologize, I have been side barring with Mr. Schaible and it 12 might make sense for the other supportive of the Plan to go 13 first before Mr. Carlson goes through the Order, just in the 14 interest of -- the Court hearing all the arguments first and 15 then we can go through the Order before the objectors come 16 on.

17 THE COURT: That actually makes sense.

18 Then, Mr. Carlson, why don't you -- I have a 19 feeling, during that, you're still going to be working on 20 the Confirmation Order so forget my 3:05 time deadline. Get 21 it to me at a point you think I need it, so that I'm working 22 with a live but editable version of the Confirmation Order, 23 okay.

24 MR. CARLSON: Yep. Will do.

25 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

1 Court's in adjournment until 1:30. This hearing
2 is in adjournment until 3:00.

3 (Recess taken from 12:15 p.m. to 3:08 p.m.)

4 AFTER RECESS

5 THE COURT: We don't need new appearances. I 6 think what we are now going to do is to go to the first 7 proponent that wishes to speak in favor of confirmation. So 8 if that individual would please press five star one time on 9 their phone.

10 Mr. Schaible, good afternoon.

11 MR. SCHAIBLE: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Damian
12 Schaible with Davis Polk on behalf of the First Lien Term
13 Loan Lenders and the DIP lenders.

14 Can you hear me okay, Your Honor?

15 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

16 MR. SCHAIBLE: Okay. Perfect.

17 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF THE FIRST LIEN

18 TERM LOAN LENDERS AND DIP LENDERS

19 MR. SCHAIBLE: Your Honor, first I want to 20 apologize to the Court and the other parties for 21 inadvertently inconveniencing everyone this morning with the 22 schedule. I was moderating an ABI panel on commercial real 23 estate, which as Your Honor knows I've been learning a 24 little bit, so I wasn't able to change that and I apologize.

25 THE COURT: You don't owe me an apology. It was I

1 believe Mr. Perez fell on the sword as his fault.

2 MR. SCHAIBLE: Mr. Perez is kind. There's a lot
3 of emails flying around so. But again apologies for that.

4 Your Honor, I virtually rise and obviously to 5 support the arguments made by the Debtors. I thought that 6 Mr. Perez and Ms. Liou --

7 THE COURT: I need to interrupt you a minute,
8 Mr. Schaible, Mr. Chiu has apparently an objection.

9 Mr. Chiu.

10 MR. CHIU: Oh. Sorry about that, Your Honor. No
11 objections, merely throwing my name in to make a statement
12 during the proponent's phase, but (glitch in the audio) I 13 have no objections to --

14 THE COURT: Okay. I'll go ahead -- if I can get 15 you to press it when the time comes. Thank you.

16 Sorry to interrupt, Mr. Schaible, just wanted to 17 be sure if somebody had an objection to you, they could 18 voice it.

19 MR. SCHAIBLE: Your Honor, lots of people have 20 objections to me, that's a little --

21 So, Your Honor, I rise virtually to support the -- 22 obviously to support the Debtors' case. I thought that 23 obviously Mr. Perez and Ms. Liou did a terrific job of 24 laying out the arguments, and I'm not going to bore Your 25 Honor with them. I rise virtually merely to make a few

1 points and really by way of emphasis of a few points that 2 Mr. Perez and Ms. Liou raised and to ask Your Honor for some 3 guidance on one point.

4           So Your Honor, as Your Honor has heard at length 5 over the past many months that we've been before you, you've 6 heard a lot about the successes of the cases and the 7 significant contributions that our group has made. But just 8 to remind -- and there's a reason for this -- as Your Honor, 9 knows our group first negotiated the RSA and the cornerstone 10 deal with Apache prepetition when we had no idea where the 11 case was going to go. But that deal was important and 12 formed a cornerstone of what ended up becoming the Plan. We 13 backstopped $100 million DIP and provided that to the 14 Debtors to permit the cases to proceed.

15           We supported the Debtors in difficult negotiations 16 with all the additional predecessors and stand here now with 17 the vast lion's share of Fieldwood's P&A obligations
18 consensually spoken for. We worked hard with the Debtors 19 and the Government to get to the non-objection that we've 20 received from the Government, and we've been working with 21 the Debtors' sureties throughout. We are, as was mentioned, 22 both backstopping the exit financing and putting in over 23 $100 million of new money, much of which will be used to not 24 only capitalize the new co-entity but also to ensure that 25 the decommissioning will be done.

1           I say all of this Your Honor to remind the context
2 -- and this is where we believe it's important to remember 3 that, in addition to having provided all the DIP, this is 4 not one of those cases where someone's standing here saying
5 hey Your Honor we have another idea, we have another 6 solution that we can offer the Court that is better or 7 different from the solution that's being offered by the 8 Plan. Unfortunately, I think everyone agrees that this 9 really is the only solution that exists to avoid a 10 liquidation and additional hardships all around.

11           So the nature of the objections that Your Honor is 12 dealing with today are legal objections that obviously we 13 have different disagreements with and again I think that the 14 Weil team ably handled what we would have said on all those 15 points. And then objections where people are seeking -- and 16 I think when Mr. Carlson takes over to talk through the 17 Order -- I think you're going to see that we've done further 18 work, during the period of time you gave us early afternoon, 19 Your Honor, we were able to reach additional agreements on 20 language. But some agreements -- disagreements on language 21 may continue to exist. And I think that those exist in a 22 couple of places that I wanted to touch base with Your Honor 23 about this afternoon.

24           The first -- and I'll deal with it quickly -- is 25 the exculpation. I heard Your Honor's point when Ms. Liou

1 was handling the exculpation point. I think you get the 2 fact that our group in addition to other groups have 3 provided what I would describe as extraordinary support and 4 have played a critical role in the Plan, and the exculpation
5 is appropriately limited both in time and in scope. And so 6 we believe it quickly and quickly passes the Pacific Lumber
7 standard.

8 And Your Honor said, you know, add language to the 9 Plan to make clear that I get to decide whether a given 10 exculpation is to be covered or not. I think that makes 11 perfect sense. And the Debtors have proposed some language 12 that I think Your Honor will soon see.

13 The one thing I wanted to be clear about, because 14 I just want to avoid any ambiguity here, by referring to 15 Pacific Lumber standard, as Your Honor notes, people throw 16 around the Pacific Lumber standard often times as a way to 17 argue the only safe fiduciaries can be and receive an 18 exculpation. I don't think that's right, and I don't think 19 that's what Your Honor has ruled in prior cases and I know 20 that Your Honor and the Southern District of Texas, more 21 generally, has permitted in call it extraordinary cases 22 third-party non-fiduciaries to get the benefit of 23 exculpation.

24 And so I would love for us to be able to, when you
25 get to the Order, consider language that would make clear

1 that while the Pacific Lumber standard will be the standard 2 for Your Honor to call balls and strikes, if you need to 3 with respect to exculpation, we don't have to relitigate 4 whether our holders would fit within that standard. In 5 other words we very much would like Your Honor to rule today 6 that our group is entitled to the exculpation. And the 7 question is just what is the scope of the exculpation under 8 controlling law? And so that's the first point I wanted to 9 make, Your Honor.

10 THE COURT: So when we get there, and I need to 11 hear argument about it, but here's been my concern about -- 12 I have to rely on Pacific Lumber and I will apply Pacific
13 Lumber. But Pacific Lumber isn't the only law that is used 14 when thinking about what fits within a Pacific Lumber. And 15 in my view Midlantic plays a relatively major role in what 16 we ought to be doing here.

17 I want to go back and talk about Midlantic for 18 just a moment. Where what the Supreme Court did was said 19 that the public policy behind our environmental laws was so 20 important that we're going to make it preeminent over 21 enforcement of specific language within the bankruptcy code.
22 And the evidence is now closed and so far the evidence is 23 that the parties who are participating in the cleanup 24 effort, which includes your client, have played a really 25 significant role in furthering the public policy of the 1 United States a Midlantic. So when you think about who the 2 critical players are that would fall within Pacific Lumber, 3 I think that you have to think about that in the context of 4 Midlantic, which would in fact educate the Court that your 5 client does fall within Pacific Lumber read in the context

6 of Midlantic.

7           So as to -- I want to hear arguments about this,
8 but the concept to me that you can be sued for what you did 9 in the case -- your client could be sued for what they did 10 in the case. I'm not talking about before the case and I'm 11 not talking about what they might do after the case, but the 12 concept they can be sued for what they did within the case
13 when it was in effect mandated by Midlantic if we were going 14 to ever clean these matters up. With counsel heavily in 15 favor of being certain it applies to you. I don't know that 16 I want to put particular language in there, as opposed to 17 the comment that I'm making now, because it's awfully 18 difficult to draw where the lines are. I don't know what 19 your client did two years ago, and I don't know what your 20 client will do two years from now.

21           But I don't read Pacific Lumber as being some far 22 out of the market opinion where I need to worry about it 23 being cabined narrowly by what was occurring in Pacific 24 Lumber, which is vastly different than what is happening 25 here. I mean just on a superficial level it was (glitch in

1 the audio) even not by me I don't -- it's not that I have an 2 opinion on this, this is an anti-environmental case, whereas 3 Midlantic says that we should counsel pro-environmental 4 cases.

5           So this isn't a hard call for me right now to know 6 that. I want to hear argument about it. I'm not sure that 7 I want to give the definition you want to give only because 8 the difficulty of anything that we say and then when 9 something becomes fact specific, you know, how we apply it 10 may be difficult, but I'm perfectly willing to listen to the 11 argument about it. But it has been my view throughout, and 12 based on the evidence that I've heard which was undisputed, 13 is that without the efforts of your clients and others but 14 I'll take yours since you're the one I'm looking at, we 15 would not have a solution to a major environmental problem 16 in the Gulf of Mexico that Midlantic tells me to utilize the 17 Bankruptcy Code in a manner to solve the problem.

18           So with that, we'll worry about the particular 19 language when we get there, but I very appreciate and you're 20 not -- I hope you realize you're not making me think about 21 this for the first time, right. I've been worried about 22 this throughout the case and how Midlantic plays into 23 Pacific Lumber, and I do think it clearly does from what I'm 24 seeing.

25           MR. SCHAIBLE: Okay. Okay, Your Honor.

1 Understood. I think at the right time I would love the 2 opportunity to try to convince Your Honor that -- and by the 3 way I was saying my group, but what I really mean as you 4 know is the ad hoc group and credited purchaser, which 5 obviously both are what you are talking about.

6 THE COURT: Right.

7 MR. SCHAIBLE: And I do think that the exculpation
8 provision does not exculpate anyone for anything they did 9 before the case and does not exculpate anyone for anything 10 they would do after the case. So I would ask Your Honor to 11 consider at the right time -- again my only request would be 12 that I don't have to relitigate two years from now whether 13 our clients were covered by the exculpation at all. I think 14 that's something that Your Honor is ably able to determine 15 today. The scope of that exculpation would remain an open 16 question, I understand that, but we can get to that when 17 you've heard the argument, Your Honor, and we can --

18 THE COURT: And I think you've heard what I'm 19 saying about it. I don't know that it's inconsistent with 20 what you're saying at all, but it may be difficult writing 21 it, but that's -- that is how I view under applicable law.

22 MR. SCHAIBLE: Understood. Understood and we can 23 discuss it when we get to the language, Your Honor.

24 The other point, and I think you're going to hear
25 about this again Your Honor, and again I almost said nothing

1 about it because Ms. Liou handled it so well during her 2 closing. But during some of the conversations that we've 3 had over the past couple of hours it's sort remained an 4 issue. And this is effectively the free and clear sell kind 5 of issue here. And again, Your Honor, we're not looking for 6 third-party releases -- non-consensual third-party releases 7 of the ad hoc group or of credited purchaser or of anyone, 8 but we do need to know that with respect to the claims that 9 are being addressed in the case and with respect to assets 10 that are being purchased by credited purchaser and with 11 respect to credited purchaser as a purchaser of assets free 12 and clear that there aren't obligations or claims that are 13 somehow riding through.

14           And this is one of those topics, it's very easy to 15 talk about in theory. I think it's so obvious in theory
16 it's almost a waste of Your Honor's time. But when you 17 start to look at the breadth of some of the language, then 18 in particular some of the sureties are pushing for as carve
19 outs under their sureties policies, what I would -- what I 20 would ask Your Honor to consider as you're hearing the 21 arguments -- and we can talk further about -- is we 22 understand and want to be crystal clear that with respect to 23 any contract, surety bonds, any agreements that are being 24 achieved and assigned to credited purchaser, no one is 25 looking to impact anyone's rights under those agreements and

1 that's an absolutely imperative completely understood. We 2 are not looking for a free pass with respect to any 3 agreements that we are purchasing on a go forward basis.

4 All of that said, we can't stand by carve outs -- 5 and you'll see it when you see the language -- that might 6 suggest that somehow with respect to agreements that were 7 not assumed and assigned, third parties have the right to 8 come after a credited purchaser or come after the purchased 9 assets on account of those non-assumed and defined 10 agreements.

11 And so what we have proposed, and you'll see it in 12 the language, is that we need very broad carve outs that are 13 being sought by a number of the sureties that basically say 14 notwithstanding anything that exists in the Plan, 15 effectively we maintain all of our rights under all of our 16 agreements with respect to any third parties. We have 17 proposed that third parties, other than credited purchaser 18 and with respect to the purchased assets, except to the 19 extent that it's on account of assumed and assigned 20 agreements and subrogation.

21 And anything that comes along with those assumed 22 and assigned agreements we are 100 percent on the hook for 23 and we're not looking to impact anyone's rights with respect 24 to. But with respect to prepetition agreements that the 25 Debtors had merely to the extent that we are purchasing

1 those assets those obligations should not ride along they 2 should be addressed in the Plan as we believe they would be 3 as unsecured claims.

4 THE COURT: Let's look at the language. We've had 5 an extensive discussion about that on the Record, if we 6 approve this Plan, your client is buying free and clear of 7 the kinds of claims you're describing, period.

8 MR. SCHAIBLE: Correct. Okay. Thank you, Your 9 Honor. And that's really -- and you'll see as it comes down
10 to it. Other than that, Your Honor, I'm going to let you 11 get on to others. But we do appreciate Your Honor's time 12 and the Court's time, and this is incredibly complex. Those 13 of us who have spent, you know, the better part of 14 nine months on this day-in-day-out sort of lose sight of the 15 bigger picture sometimes. But when you do look at the 16 bigger picture this is a Plan that really does show the best 17 of a lot of people on this Zoom call, those I agree with and 18 disagree with. Thank you, Your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Thank you.

20 Mr. Balasko, if you would go ahead and press 21 five star I would appreciate it. I made comments about how 22 I thought Midlantic should be applied to further the 23 interest of the people of the United States. And in fact if 24 we're going to utilize it properly, that it does influence 25 the application of the bankruptcy code to particular

1 situations. It dawns on me that because I'm saying how I
2 believe you are acting in terms of implementing this, I 3 should confirm that I'm reading, if you will, the United 4 States correctly that you have determined that you're not 5 objecting, because this in fact furthers the kind of 6 principles of Midlantic. Because if not then the decision 7 that I'm telling Mr. Schaible that I think is correct, could 8 be incorrect. Because it depends on -- in fact I've read 9 the Department of Justice correctly. So go ahead, please, 10 if you would, Mr. Balasko.

11 MR. BALASKO: Thank you, Your Honor. Zach Balasko
12 on behalf of the Department of the Interior.

13 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF 14 THE DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR

15 MR. BALASKO: I think Your Honor's understanding 16 of Midlantic is correct. The Bankruptcy Code under 17 Section 554 gives Debtors -- or trustees and those in 18 possession a very broad right to abandon property if it's a 19 burden to the estate. You know, in recognition of the 20 overwhelmingly important public policy considerations of 21 particularly environmental laws, the Supreme Court created a 22 -- judge made exception to that to the management standard 23 in Midlantic, where --

24 THE COURT: Probably wouldn't happen with the 25 current Supreme Court, right? But I think I need to rule on

1 the way they've already ruled and not the way they might 2 rule today, right?

3 MR. BALASKO: Your Honor, as a proud graduate of 4 Washington and Lee school of law, I would have to note that 5 this is one of Justice Powell's my fellow WNL graduate, I 6 think. But I agree with you, Your Honor.

7 But Midlantic exception -- if a regulator raises 8 an objection under Midlantic that an abandonment would 9 violate a law that's designed to protect public health and 10 safety, abandonment is not permitted. The Supreme Court
11 found that Congress didn't intend to advocate a Debtors' 12 plausibility to comply with these environmental laws in 13 particular while we're in Bankruptcy Code.

14 As Your Honor noted earlier and noted in the 15 American Coastal opinion, Midlantic doesn't call on the 16 Bankruptcy Court to replace its judgment with the judgment 17 of the regulator or with Congress when enacting statutes and 18 enforcing regulations. It's the prerogative of the 19 regulator to decide whether or not to assert Midlantic
20 claims, and it's analogous of whether or not a particular 21 Bankruptcy Plan proposed abandonment protects the Gulf, the 22 environment.

23 In this case, Interior has thought long and hard 24 about the decision and reviewed the Debtors' Plan, gone back
25 and forth with the Debtor for many, many months to determine

1 that this Plan is the best practical solution to protect 2 health, safety, and environment in this case. We are 3 confident that the properties will continue to be maintained
4 and monitored as there would be no gap in which -- you know, 5 after the effective date there's a property that's out in 6 the Gulf unmonitored. That's a very, very important 7 consideration, even before we get to decommissioning that 8 someone is watching these properties to make sure there 9 aren't vessel collisions or oil spills.

10 We're also confident that 91 percent of these 11 properties there are already agreements in place, or there 12 will be on the effective date that the decommissioning will 13 be performed. And as to the remaining 9 percent, the 14 predecessors-in-interest on those properties have recognized 15 their obligation to perform the decommissioning as joint and 16 several with the Debtor, and when called upon to do so by 17 Interior, we're confident that they will perform the 18 decommissioning.

19 Your Honor, we haven't looked at the Confirmation 20 Order yet, but it's also important to note that under 21 paragraphs 142 to 146 of the current Confirmation Order, the 22 Debtors aren't being released of their obligations to comply 23 with the decommissioning obligations and other regulations, 24 and neither are the post effective date Debtors. This is 25 also very important from Interior's perspective that there

1 is no release of liability happening here.

2 And finally as Your Honor noted earlier in the 3 discussion with Mr. Perez, this court is not charged with 4 determining whether or not the post-effective date Debtors 5 ultimately comply with the regulations or with the 6 transition services. The Confirmation Order also makes it 7 explicitly clear that the applicable tribunal, whether they 8 be Interior's Administrative process or an article three 9 court, will be where the United States goes to make sure 10 that the Debtor is complying with the environmental 11 obligations. Which I think is how Congress intended the 12 process to work, and that's not the type of thing that I 13 think this court wants to get involved in.

14 Your Honor this has been, as I said at the 15 beginning of my presentation yesterday, a long and 16 challenging case, but I think that this a solution that 17 protects the environment and protects health and safety, and 18 for that reason the Government's not objecting to the Plan.
19 They could not have gotten here without the many, many hours 20 of work from the Debtors, from the lenders, from the 21 predecessors, and all their counsel, and I would be remiss 22 if I didn't mention my co-counsel at Justice Serajul Ali, as 23 well as Casey Hines and of Interior Ryan lamb all of us have 24 put in many hours to get to this point. And we are 25 approaching and confirmed we're not objecting to it and

1 happy to answer any questions the Court may have.

2 THE COURT: So in the last part of your statement, 3 you were thinking people that if we wouldn't have gotten the 4 deal or you wouldn't have gotten the deal done without them.
5 With respect to Mr. Schaible's clients for example, I think 6 the evidence shows, not only that you wouldn't have gotten 7 the deal done with out them, but that they wouldn't have 8 done the deal without having appropriate exculpation for 9 doing the deal. And that the deal is --

10 MR. BALASKO: Absolutely, Your Honor.

11 THE COURT: -- in furtherance of Midlantic. Is 12 that your view as well?

13 MR. BALASKO: That is my view, Your Honor. Now it 14 is important to note that this transition services you know, 15 the reason that the Plan worked that was before Your Honor
16 in January didn't provide for those services, was that there 17 was no money with which to provide the services. And you 18 know, that money has to come from somewhere and I believe 19 that money is in fact coming from Mr. Schaible's clients.
20 And I believe that this Debtor would not be able to comply 21 with Midlantic without the support of the lenders.

22 THE COURT: Thank you, I just wanted to be sure I
23 wasn't out to far over my sleeves. I'm going to go ahead
24 and mute your line, Mr. Balasko.

25 Mr. Pasquale, let me get your line active. There

1 we go. Mr. Pasquale, sorry.

2 MR. PASQUALE: There we go. Thank you, Your 3 Honor. Can you hear me okay?

4 THE COURT: I can.

5 MR. PASQUALE: Thank you, Your Honor. Ken
6 Pasquale at Strook and Strook and Lavan for the Official 7 Committee of Unsecured Creditors.

8 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF THE 9 OFFICIAL COMMITTEE OF UNSECURED CREDITORS

10 MR. PASQUALE: Your Honor, I will be very brief.
11 The Committee filed a statement in support of confirmation
12 at Docket No. 1552 which outlines the Committee's actions
13 and diligence, as well as the Committee's Planned settlement 14 with the Debtors and lenders, which resulted in the 15 treatment provided in the Plan for general unsecured 16 creditors in classes 6(a) and 6(b).

17 Your Honor, this case presented some difficult
18 facts for unsecured creditors. In addition to the P&A 19 issues, there was 1.8 billion in prepetition secured debt, a 20 proposed credit bid transaction, and a valuation that did 21 not seem to leave room to satisfy general unsecured claims.
22 In these circumstances, the Committee was able to achieve 23 what we believe is very favorable treatment for general 24 unsecured claims and important structural concessions. Such 25 as the opportunity to select the Plan administrator, and the

1 release by the estate of any possible preference claims 2 against holders of general unsecured claims.

3 I won't burden the Record here, Your Honor, by 4 reciting each term of the Plan settlement. The complete 5 terms are set forth in the disclosure statement, that's 6 Docket No. 1285 at page 16. We do believe it's significant 7 however that many of the objections that were initially 8 filed against the Plan -- of the many objections, excuse me, 9 Your Honor, none of the objections took issue with the Plan 10 settlement and the treatment of general unsecured claims.

11 Your Honor, I mentioned at the start of the 12 hearing that the Committee was in the process of evaluating 13 the Apache-sureties settlement for which the term sheet was 14 filed by the Debtors last night. Just for the Record, the 15 Committee supports that settlement and Your Honor we 16 respectfully request that the Plan be confirmed. Thank you 17 very much.

18 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Pasquale.

19 All right. Who next wants to address from a 20 proponent's point of view advocacy of the Plan?

21 Ms. Russell.

22 MS. RUSSELL: Good afternoon, Your Honor.

23 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

25 APACHE CORPORATION

1 MS. RUSSELL: I'll start by saying that I'm proud 2 that Lewis Powell was a partner at Hunton before he went on 3 the Bench.

4 After many months of litigation and negotiation,
5 the Apache sureties, the Debtors on behalf of Fieldwood One,
6 and Apache reached an agreement as to the terms for settling 7 the disputes among them, including the adversary proceeding
8 that was filed with this court. The Apache surety term
9 sheet was filed early this morning, as just noted. It 10 contemplates that between now and the effective date the 11 parties will further memorialize the settlement in a 12 subrogation, subordination, and payment agreement. And the 13 parties have agreed that if we have any problems or disputes 14 arising from turning the term sheet into that agreement, we 15 will come back to you for resolution.

16 So I would like to briefly walk through the terms
17 of that agreement and address questions that I have. There 18 are four sureties that are parties to this agreement. Two 19 of them issued bonds directly to Apache, two of them stand 20 behind the Deutsche Bank letters of credit that were issued 21 to Apache, and that's bundled together with what we call 22 Trust A constitutes the decommissioning security which you
23 will see referenced in the Confirmation Order.

24 In order to implement this, the sureties are going 25 to enter into an inter-surety agreement and designate one

1 representative, the surety representative to on an ongoing 2 basis work with Fieldwood One and Apache. There are several 3 important things that wrote out of this.

4           The first, Apache had a claim against the Debtors
5 for the short fall in the decommissioning funding for 2020,
6 and that was in the range of $50 million. The sureties
7 asserted that, that had to be strictly cured and Fieldwood
8 One was going to have to borrow money in order to effectuate
9 that cure. But as a result of the settlement, the sureties 10 have agreed that Fieldwood One and Apache can agree to an 11 alternative cure. And the cure being the entire settlement 12 that was reached between the Debtors and Apache before this 13 case began.

14           As a result, Fieldwood One will not have to borrow 15 money to make the cure. That money was going to go into 16 Trust A which was going to be sitting for awhile until it
17 had to be drawn on. And so through that savings, Fieldwood 18 One will be able to make payments to the sureties which we 19 are calling the Fieldwood One premium claims. Now these 20 claims are not at the same level as the premiums that were 21 due prepetition, but it is an amount that has been agreed to 22 by the sureties and they will allocate it amongst themselves 23 under their surety agreement.

24           The way it's set up 6.25 million will be paid in 25 semi-annual payments for a total of 6.25 a year that starts

1 60 days after the effective date. And then, if there is 2 sufficient free cash flow above the 20 million mark that is 3 going to be set aside for working capital, then the sureties 4 will be entitled to additional 2.75 million on an annual 5 basis. And this total of 9 million will not be subject to 6 the subordination that I'm going to reference momentarily.

7           So the sureties are also going to be allowed to 8 opt into the farm end that was negotiated between Fieldwood 9 One and NewCo. So that agreement those farm end rights last 10 for two years, and at the end of the two year mark the 11 sureties can elect -- they're not obligated to -- but they 12 can elect to step into that agreement. And if they do and 13 things work out well, they will recover their initial 14 capital investment. Then 50 percent of the profits, above 15 their initial investment return, they can use those funds to 16 top up to their premium, if free cash flow wasn't otherwise 17 available to do that. And then the other 50 will go into 18 Trust A.

19           So Fieldwood One will get the benefit of working 20 capital of 50, once the sureties get back their capital and 21 they get their pre- (indiscernible) topped up, the other 22 50 percent will go into Trust A, which will be used for 23 decommissioning as well. So it's really a win, win 24 situation all around. The Surety representative will have 25 information rights similar to Apache's and will be allowed

1 to distribute that information that's subject to appropriate 2 confidentiality with the other sureties.

3           And then we get to this agreement, this 4 subrogation and subordination and payment agreement. And 5 that agreement is intended to grant to the sureties a 6 contractual right of subrogation, if and when all the bonds 7 and LCs have been drawn on, that has been agreed to by 8 Fieldwood One. And they will step in with a claim for the 9 amount that has been drawn plus any premium fees up to $12 10 million that they have not previously been paid. That 11 agreement will have very standard subordination provisions, 12 as well, so that it's clear that nothing will be paid out on 13 that subrogation claim to the sureties until Apache has been 14 fully repaid on the standby facility that it has offered, 15 there's no future commitment to lend, and all the 16 decommissioning has been completed on the Legacy Apache 17 property.

18           In connection with this the sureties have agreed 19 to support the Plan, provide the releases as outlined there 20 in, and this is what we view as a great resolution for 21 everyone. The adversary proceeding will be dismissed, 22 Apache will get the comfort that it needs in connection with 23 the Plan.

24           I'll stop at that point and ask the Court if it 25 has questions.

1 THE COURT: Not many and I don't think I should 2 ask many, I want to be sure of a couple of things. Number 3 one, I know of no difference -- sitting here right now 4 without studying it -- between the words you used today and 5 the words that are written on the paper, but it would be my 6 understanding between you and the sureties that, if there is 7 any difference between what you said today and what is on 8 the paper that was filed, that the paper would control.

9 MS. RUSSELL: Absolutely.

10 THE COURT: And second, I want to understand, if 11 there is a dispute over how to document the final contract, 12 which I understand you're going to bring back to the 13 Bankruptcy Court, and if there are some holes in the 14 agreement that just have to be filled in, in order to be 15 able to make it final, are the parties agreeing that they 16 have a sufficiently documented deal that I am empowered to 17 fill in the blanks that need to be filled in if there's 18 something just completely missing but that's absolutely 19 necessary? O does the deal fail if you have that situation?
20 I just want to -- I'm not -- I don't want to change what 21 you-all have agreed to do, but to me that is the hardest 22 question. This is really complicated, there's probably some 23 holes, I think you'll work through them, but if you can't, I 24 want to know if I'm supposed to fill them in or not.
25 Whether that's what you are empowering me to do.

1 MS. RUSSELL: Your Honor, from Apache's
2 perspective, we are empowering you to do that. We feel like 3 this is a deal, where we can't see it but there's a lot of 4 blood on this term sheet, a lot of people have looked at it 5 for a long time, and so I'll defer to Mr. Perez and the 6 counsel for the sureties, but from Apache's perspective we 7 would rely upon the Court understanding the history of this 8 bankruptcy and the issues here to fill in those blanks.

9 THE COURT: Mr. Grzyb, what is the sureties' 10 position on that?

11 MR. GRZYB: Well, I think Ms. Russell has 12 accurately captured, I think, the proper response now. I 13 would probably, to the extent he has raised his hand 14 virtually, defer to Mr. Brescia to go first because he's 15 been sort of leading the charge with respect to negotiating 16 this term sheet. So if he has raised his hand, I would 17 defer to him. If --

18 THE COURT: You know with that --

19 MR. GRZYB: -- Your Honor can see if he's --

20 THE COURT: -- you know, with that, I'm always 21 going to call on you first, so you have this sort of built 22 in problem Mr. Grzyb, so.

23 (Laughter.)

24 MR. GRZYB: Well, I will say that I think that job 25 sort of started to really accelerate the process of this

1 term sheet, so Marvin will forever be a legend in sureties.
2 Going forward. But thank you, Your Honor.

3 THE COURT: But as far as you're concerned though, 4 if there are holes in the deal, you want them filled in by 5 me as opposed to saying that the deal fails because there's 6 a hole?

7 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF 8 ASPEN AMERICAN INSURANCE COMPANY,
9 BERKLEY INSURANCE COMPANY, EVEREST REINSURANCE COMPANY, 10 AND SIRIUS AMERICA INSURANCE COMPANY

11 MR. GRZYB: We very much want to see this deal 12 concluded as part of this bankruptcy case. My comment would 13 be sort of two-fold. The deal the subordination agreement 14 with Apache and the Debtor, I think we want to have 15 confirmed and part of the Plan of Reorganization. As part 16 of the Confirmation Order, I think that the term sheet also 17 makes clear that, after the effective date, should a dispute 18 arise there is a venue selection clause outside of the 19 Bankruptcy Court. And hopefully that doesn't happen or it 20 doesn't happen for a number of years.

21 The second aspect that I don't think is absolutely 22 necessary and may take some time to figure out if he -- it 23 references an inter-surety agreement with no terms 24 whatsoever. I don't think that hole or that gap needs to be 25 filled, that was to be the deal among the four sureties.

1 That hole does not require us to get sign off from the 2 Bankruptcy Court.

3 THE COURT: Right. But with respect to the 4 dispute that you might have with Apache -- and if we knew 5 what the hole was right now, we would all fill it in, right?
6 But let's assume something comes up as you-all do the formal 7 documentation, there's a hole you-all are going to work 8 through it, probably work it out, but if you don't, does the 9 agreement fail because there's a hole or do you want me to 10 fill it in? I also need to tell you that you just said
11 something different than what the way that I read the term 12 sheet. You said after the effective date matters would 13 return to state court. This says after the case is closed, 14 those are two different things. I don't care what your deal 15 is, I don't want there to be ambiguity.

16 MR. GRZYB: Yeah. And the actual different term
17 was after the case was closed, so I would defer to the term 18 sheet on that and I apologize for the --

19 THE COURT: No problem. And again I just -- my 20 whole -- the reason I'm asking these questions is I don't 21 want to get down the road once there's a dispute and then 22 figure out whether I've got authority to deal with it. Let 23 go ahead and -- let me go ahead and --

24 MR. GRZYB: To answer your question --

25 THE COURT: -- Mr. Brescia's line, you wanted to 1 defer to him, it looks like you're thinking about, let's see 2 what he says and see where we go.

3 Mr. Brescia. Your camera is off, Mr. Brescia, if 4 you care, but your line is now activated.

5 MR. BRESCIA: Yeah. Thank you, Your Honor. This 6 is Duane Brescia for Zurich American Insurance Company.
7 I've been trying for the last 10 minutes to get my video
8 working and I'm not sure why it's not. So I'll try to speak 9 and hope that, that satisfies the Court.

11 ZURICH AMERICAN INSURANCE COMPANY

12 MR. BRESCIA: On behalf of all the sureties and 13 for my client Zurich, I do think that what Ms. Russell
14 stated was accurate is that we do have a deal. There is, I 15 guess, the gap filler, Zurich is okay with the Court filling 16 those. Although we think we've filled it in ourselves and 17 believe me we're going to give the next round of documents 18 the same attention to detail and professionalism that all 19 the parties have shown in this to try to get to that, so we 20 don't have to go to you.

21 Quite a bit of care over the weekend to make sure 22 at least the broad brushes would cover anything so there's 23 not any ambiguity as to what is intended how it's said.
24 Obviously, we have yet to deal with that. So with those 25 issues I would agree with the Court's comment that they can

1 fill in the gaps. With the exclusion of the 2 inter-surety we're just not there yet on those terms but the 3 role of the surety representative is in place.

4           The final thing to add, Your Honor, is simply just 5 more of a mechanical issue. We're talking about this term 6 sheet, I just did not see -- and I've reached out to 7 counsel, I'm not saying that they've avoided me they just -- 8 I know they're doing a lot of different things here -- we 9 just want to make sure that there's a spot in the Plan
10 Confirmation Order where the term sheet is officially 11 adopted, and I'm not sure I saw that. So I just open that 12 request to the other counsel involved in the term sheet.

13           THE COURT: Yeah. I'll direct Mr. Carlson to the 14 extent that he hasn't already done so to be sure that's 15 there.

16           Mr. Eisenberg.

17           MR. EISENBERG: Yes. Thank you, Your Honor.
18 Philip Eisenberg on behalf of HCCI International Limited.

19                           CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF 20                           HCCI INTERNATIONAL LIMITED

21           MR. EISENBERG: We echo Mr. Brescia's sentiments, 22 and we also confirm that Your Honor would be the gap filler
23 here, I actually had a situation like this in front of Judge
24 Steen many years ago where he had to do that and the parties 25 presented their views and the Court came up with a process

1 for doing that and -- but we ought to be able to --

2 THE COURT: Yeah. Maybe I should just --

3 MR. EISENBERG: -- afford it.

4 THE COURT: -- just call Judge Steen and see if he 5 wants to do that.

6 MR. EISENBERG: Yeah. That would be fine by me.
7 And Your Honor, on the inter-surety agreement yeah that is 8 not something we would bring to the Court.

9 THE COURT: No. I agree. With respect to 10 disputes with Apache for example or with the Debtor, if the 11 final agreements require hole filling and I know no one 12 wants them to be there, but we've all been there where we 13 didn't think of something, I'm supposed to fill in the gap.

14 MR. EISENBERG: Right. Exactly, Your Honor, when 15 we're doing -- if we have to do the subordination agreement 16 and if there's something that one thinks goes one way and 17 one goes the other way and we can't agree, we'll have to 18 bring that to the Court.

19 THE COURT: Mr. Miller.

20 MR. MILLER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Robert 21 Miller on behalf of Philadelphia Indemnity Insurance 22 Company.

23 Can you hear me okay?

24 THE COURT: Good afternoon. I can hear you fine.

1 PHILADELPHIA INDEMNITY INSURANCE COMPANY

2 MR. MILLER: Excellent. I will confirm our 3 agreements with statements made on the Record by Mr. Brescia
4 and Mr. Eisenberg and Mr. Grzyb that you are the appropriate 5 person to fill in the gaps there, and to see if they exist, 6 we certainly hope there will not be. And as to the inter-7 surety agreement we also agree that, that's outside the 8 scope of your gap filing purview. So I would like to say 9 that all four sureties are on board with the statements that 10 Ms. Russell made with the obviously the caveat in regards to 11 the inter-surety agreement.

12 THE COURT: Thank you.

13 All right. Ms. Russell, I think what you said has 14 been adopted by everybody. Is there anything else you want 15 to add or should we move to Mr. Chiu and see what he has to 16 say?

17 MS. RUSSELL: If you'll indulge me just briefly.
18 We do need the surety representative designated to us at the 19 effective date so that we know who information needs to be 20 provided to. And finally I would like to thank the sureties 21 counsel and the Debtors' counsel for getting this done with 22 us and particular I would like to thank Mike Dane and Tommy 23 Lamb from Fieldwood and Anthony Langley (phonetic) and Brett 24 Cupid (phonetic) from Apache, who were very creative and 25 constructive in helping structure this agreement.

1           So thank you.

2           THE COURT: Ms. Russell, I suspect that you were,
3 too, but thank you.

4           MS. RUSSELL: Thank you, Your Honor.

5           THE COURT: All right. Mr. Chiu, if I can get you
6 to press five star. Sorry to interrupt you before, I only 7 get a -- it's the same signal I get if somebody wants to 8 talk or somebody objects, so I try and keep that cleared out 9 so that I don't have any pending objections.

10           I didn't mean to cut you off otherwise, Mr. Chiu.

11           MR. CHIU: No. Not at all, Your Honor. And 12 apologies again to Mr. Schaible for temporarily stealing his 13 thunder a little bit, so hopefully we can proceed as is.

14           But again, Kevin Chiu Baker Botts on behalf of 15 Hunt Oil Company and subsidiaries.

16           CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF HUNT OIL COMPANY

17           MR. CHIU: As Your Honor, is aware Hunt is one of 18 the predecessors of consensual agreements with the Debtors, 19 and as indicated before going into the break that Hunt does 20 have a deal with the Debtors and intends to honor that deal.
21 And we certainly stand, as far as that agreement, in support
22 of confirmation of the Plan.

23           We did reach out to the Debtors' counsel
24 Mr. Carlson and his team before going into -- you know, 25 going into the break with regards to certain mechanical

1 issues that we had with regards to the Confirmation Order
2 language, and also some other documents include the Plan 3 supplements and the turnkey agreements. I don't know if 4 Your Honor wants to wait until Mr. Carlson is going to be 5 going through and addressing each of those provisions in the 6 Confirmation Order for us to raise our issue, or if we 7 should go ahead and raise them now so you can correct
8 Mr. Carlson accordingly.

9 THE COURT: I'm a little inclined to wait to where 10 I've got the document, I've got it on the screen, and if we 11 direct a resolution, I can just type it in so everybody 12 knows what it is. Is that okay with you, Mr. Chiu?

13 MR. CHIU: Yes. That works for the Confirmation 14 Order.

15 With regards to some of the other documents, we do 16 want to make sure that, when it comes to that point in time, 17 there's a Hunt turnkey agreement that was alluded to 18 throughout this hearing by, you know, Mr. Dane and Debtors' 19 counsel. Hopefully once that gets resolved with regards to 20 the confirmation language, the Order language that is part 21 of that agreement will get filed promptly before entry of 22 the Confirmation Order. And that the Plan supplement 23 documents that particularly the oil and gas lease schedules 24 for Fieldwood Three and the abandoned properties, will be 25 updated accordingly to encapsulate the terms of our

1 agreement with the Debtors. But other than that, we 2 certainly thank the Debtors for their ongoing efforts to 3 move this deal forward and stand in support of confirmation.

4 THE COURT: Mr. Chiu, thank you.

5 Mr. Carlson, when we get to you, I will need to 6 understand whether the Plan supplement is going to all be 7 updated before an Order would be entered. So you can wait 8 and address that, but let's not forget the issue that 9 Mr. Chiu is addressing.

10 Thank you, Mr. Chiu.

11 MR. CHIU: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: All right. Who else do we have that 13 wishes to make any statement in support of confirmation?

14 (No audible response.)

15 THE COURT: All right. Does it make some sense to 16 sort of abort the game Plan and now go to statements in 17 opposition of confirmation, and then take up the 18 Confirmation Order? Because I think a lot of people have 19 told me their objections are close to getting resolved, and 20 it may make some sense to hear those and then be sure we can 21 fix it in the Confirmation Order. So unless there's a 22 problem by the Debtor, I think I'm just going to come back 23 to Mr. Carlson while he continues to work on revisions as 24 people tell me their objections.

25 So let me ask the first party that wishes to speak

1 in opposition to confirmation to do so?

2 All right. Yeah. Let's hear from BP. Go ahead, 3 please.

4 MS. HEYEN: Thank you, Your Honor. Shari Heyen
5 for BP.

6 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF BP

7 MS. HEYEN: We were able, likewise, to speak
8 during the break with Mr. Carlson and we've made some 9 progress on our language as well. And so I just rise to let 10 Your Honor know that if the language -- if we're close on 11 our language, I don't really know how much time we're going 12 to need for our closing. So it might be helpful to find out 13 where Mr. Carlson is with respect to our language. And we 14 can do that now.

15 THE COURT: So what you're telling me is that 16 we're better off going to Mr. Carlson before I listen to the 17 objections, I'm perfectly happy to do that.

18 MS. HEYEN: Yes, Your Honor. From where we sit, 19 yes. Because we're pretty close.

20 THE COURT: I'll change course. We'll go back to 21 that.

22 All right. Mr. Carlson --

23 I'm going to leave you on, Ms. Heyen.

24 Let's get Mr. Carlson on.

25 MS. HEYEN: Thank you.

1 THE COURT: And then we'll come back and pick up 2 other objecting parties.

3 So I'm going to not recognize Mr. Alaniz and
4 Mr. Kuebel

5 I want to go to Mr. Carlson before we get to them.

6 And then we'll come back and you're going to have 7 a full chance to make your objections.

8 All right. Mr. Carlson, where are we on the 9 Confirmation Order? Let's start with the BP disputed 10 provisions or whatever we want to call them.

11 MR. CARLSON: So Your Honor, yeah, we have made 12 quite a bit of progress and we're working through several 13 objections. For BP I do think we're very close. We have 14 narrowed it down to just two issues. And not long before 15 this call, some revised language was sent around, and I 16 think we are -- I think from the Debtors' perspective the 17 revisions are acceptable, but we are waiting for sign off 18 from other consenting stakeholders.

19 THE COURT: Do you have those in a form right now 20 on your screen that you can show me?

21 MR. CARLSON: Yes. Just give me one second.

22 (Pause in proceedings.)

23 MR. CARLSON: Sorry, just one second, I'm trying 24 to find the email here. It never came in.

25 I would ask Ms. Heyen, which associate sent across

1 that language, I'm just having trouble finding it right now.

2 MS. HEYEN: It was Mr. Ryan Wagner of Greenberg
3 Traurig.

4 MR. CARLSON: Ah. Thank you.

5 (Pause in proceedings.)

6 MR. CARLSON: So Your Honor, I think it's really 7 just two issues we're down to. Number one, this reservation
8 of rights language regarding arbitration rights. And then 9 number two, they're set off and so this is proposed -- BP's 10 proposed addition to 128(9).

11 THE COURT: And is the Debtor okay with that 12 revision?

13 MR. CARLSON: Yes, Your Honor. We're fine with 14 this. We think it's not doing anything other than to the 15 extent they have arbitration rights are valid in any rights.
16 That this Order would not upset those rights.

17 THE COURT: So hold up then --

18 MR. CARLSON: -- but I haven't --

19 THE COURT: Mr. Kuebel and Mr. Alaniz, I'm about 20 to not recognize you-all on purpose. So I'm going to make 21 you-all repress five star, when you need to, which may be 22 right now.

23 Is there any party that has any problem with the 24 language shown on the screen in proposed paragraph 128
25 sub (9)? If so, please press five star.

1 Mr. Perez. Mr. Perez, you pressed five star.

2 MR. PEREZ: Yes, Your Honor. Obviously, I don't 3 have any issue with it, but we do -- this is part of the 4 consent that the FLT lenders have pursuant to the RSA, so I 5 want to make sure that --

6 THE COURT: Right. I want to hear not consent or 7 consent. We can't just -- I don't know else to get that 8 sub. I'm about to talk about doing another thing than the 9 way we're going on it. But on this one, if they've got a 10 problem, press five star and let me hear it. If they're 11 okay with it, they're okay with it.

12 Okay. Let's go to the next BP issue and then I 13 want to maybe change course a little bit. What's the next 14 BP issue?

15 MR. CARLSON: So I think that captures it. Then 16 the rest of the changes that you see here on the screen, I 17 think we're fine with the changes in 10 as well. The only 18 question I have here, I think, is as permitted under the 19 Plan language regarding set off has been a -- has been a 20 subject of dispute and discussion involving lender's counsel 21 as well, so I'm not prepared to say that we're signed off on 22 that language yet.

23 THE COURT: What's going to take -- who needs to 24 sign off on that or reject it from your team?

25 MR. CARLSON: We have a similar language issue

1 with XTO, and I think there's been back and forth emails on 2 that point where we had said -- and I don't want to get out
3 of focus -- but I think we had said something a little bit 4 differently. I would ask the Davis Polk team, I think that 5 they may have proposed language here that may have resolved 6 this whole complaint.

7 THE COURT: Let me go where I was going to go 8 then. I really do want to end the Confirmation Hearing at 9 some point, and there may be people that have objections 10 where they don't anticipate that they are resolvable through 11 the Confirmation Order. Someone has a substantive objection 12 that we're taking away one of their rights for example.
13 Other people believe it's going to get resolved in the 14 Confirmation Order.

15 Here's what I would like to propose, and I want to 16 see if this works without causing undue delay. I know it's 17 expensive every time we adjourn. Is let your people who 18 believe that they have objections that are not resolvable by 19 language in the Confirmation Order. If we sustain an 20 objection or overrule an objection, that will then inform 21 where we need to go. And then adjourn until 1:30 tomorrow 22 to let the balance of the language work or not work, 23 preserving for everyone, for example, Ms. Heyen, if the 24 netting language can't be worked out, she can make her full 25 objection without any waiver tomorrow, but that way she'll

1 know for sure whether it's made. So I'm not going to cut 2 off anybody's rights to make their full objection tomorrow
3 if they don't make it today.

4 But I'm sure we have some people that think their 5 objection is not resolvable in the Confirmation Order and,
6 you know, that they need to be totally cut out of the 7 provisions of the Plan or the Plan shouldn't be confirmed or 8 something like that. If there's somebody that thinks they 9 can't resolve it by working with the Order, let's hear from 10 you now. And does anyone have any problem then coming back 11 at 1:30, and we will then -- we'll then know if there are 12 things that you-all can't voluntarily work out and we'll 13 take them up at 1:30. Looks like nobody has a real problem 14 with that.

15 So let me now hear from anyone that has a 16 non-resolvable objection.

17 Mr. Alaniz, a non-resolvable objection by you.

18 MR. ALANIZ: Yes, Your Honor. Omar Alaniz on 19 behalf of Hess Corporation.

20 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF HESS CORPORATION

21 MR. ALANIZ: Well, I want to be clear, I -- well, 22 we have an issue that I think is resolvable with language, 23 and I emailed Mr. Carlson, and I know he's got a lot going 24 on, but I've not heard back. So I think we can work out some 25 language in the Confirmation Order.

1 I do, however, have a very short closing argument,
2 and so I will just take the Court's direction as to when you 3 want to hear that.

4 THE COURT: Now. Let's do it now.

5 MR. ALANIZ: You want to hear it now? Sure.

6 THE COURT: Yeah, because I assume it's closing --

7 MR. ALANIZ: Okay, Your Honor.

8 THE COURT: -- argument where you're telling me
9 that I shouldn't confirm the Plan as it is and it's not going 10 to be worked out with confirmation language. Right?

11 MR. ALANIZ: Correct, and then I think we have 12 some that will be fruitful.

13 THE COURT: Right.

14 MR. ALANIZ: Hopefully it'll be resolved.

15 THE COURT: I got it. I got it. Go ahead.

16 MR. ALANIZ: Okay. So, Your Honor, I would like 17 to begin by being clear about what we are not arguing. We 18 are -- well, we are disappointed that Fieldwood is not 19 complying with obligations under regulations and contractual 20 agreements to P&As. We understand that Hess has obligations 21 under applicable regulations which include decommissioning.
22 Hess is not trying to escape its obligations.

23 And we very much appreciate the Government's 24 efforts to negotiate the agreed activities. We appreciate 25 the Debtors agreement to perform the agreed activities which 1 does ameliorate some of our health and safety concerns. The 2 health and safety concerns have been paramount to Hess 3 throughout the entire time that we've been in dialogue with 4 the Debtors.

5 In my examination of Mr. Dane, Your Honor heard 6 him discuss outstanding income to West Delta properties, and 7 as Your Honor reads the comments in the Debtor's Exhibit 99 8 that correspond to those things, you'll see some of those 9 health and safety concerns. Mr. Dane testified that he was 10 committed to performing those activities to clear up those 11 things, and that representation was very important to Hess.

12 I then moved on in my examination to address the 13 fact that the Debtors intend to abandon the West Delta 14 properties and leave those properties with hydrocarbons.
15 And Mr. Dane testified that he knew that it's been a focus to 16 Hess, that in connection with the Debtors' abandonment that 17 the properties be left hydrocarbon free.

18 And, Your Honor, I went back and I looked into 19 Mr. Dane's testimony last night, which is at Docket K4, and 20 if Your Honor were to go back and listen at the second hour, 21 10:18, you'll hear him say these words, he says, Safe-out 22 activity is a very delicate activity. You're removing 23 hydrocarbons from a facility. It needs to be done in a very 24 careful manner with very qualified individuals.

25 And, Your Honor, we couldn't agree more. It is a

1 delicate activity. And Hess's focus, as corroborated by 2 Mr. Dane, has been this hydrocarbon issue precisely because 3 of the delicate nature of handling hydrocarbons. And I
4 would also encourage Your Honor to listen to Mr. Dane's
5 testimony that begins about the two-hour mark where I asked
6 Mr. Dane a series of questions regarding the Debtors' 7 willingness to perform the safe-out work, specifically the 8 hydrocarbon free work for any in Chevron's but not for Hess.

9           And he had two responses. His first response was 10 that the Debtors believe that to safe-out the properties at 11 their cost was in the context of a broader commercial term 12 fee arrangement and Hess and the Debtors simply could not 13 come to that agreement. In other words, and these are not 14 his words, these are my words, the Debtors are saying that 15 if Newco can profit off a long term commercial arrangement 16 to perform P&A, then they will perform the safe-out at their 17 cost, and leaving those properties hydrocarbon free.

18           His second response was that they're basically 19 stretched too thin with other commitments and they can't 20 handle the additional RCL safe-out work. And so those two 21 statements to me are a little bit contradictory. So on the 22 one hand he's saying, Well, we would do it if you would give 23 us a proper opportunity, at least that's my interpretation.
24 But on the other hand we actually don't have the bandwidth to 25 do it.

1           And so given all this testimony, Your Honor, so
2 the Court's really -- ultimately what our legal arguments
3 that we set out in our brief, which is that the Debtors' not 4 treating similarly situated creditors in a similar way. And 5 this isn't a classic disparate treatment issue where the 6 Debtors are agreeing to pay one creditor 75 cents and the 7 other one, this claim contemplates arrangements with some 8 predecessors to perform certain work. Literally safe is in 9 that title. Safe out work. But they're essentially throwing 10 the keys to others with platforms that are filled with 11 leftover fuel hydrocarbons that Mr. Dane testified need to 12 be removed in a very careful manner with qualified 13 individuals.

14           So to be clear, this isn't a concern of one 15 creditor getting more money in their pockets than Hess. It's 16 that the Debtors are agreeing to perform environmental safe 17 activity for some predecessors but not others. And those 18 facts also support Hess's argument that as a legal matter the 19 Debtors' Plan cannot be confirmed because of Midlantic, which 20 says that the Debtor cannot abandon properties in 21 contravention of a regulation designed for health and 22 safety.

23           Now I heard Your Honor loud and clear this 24 morning, and I understand this Court's interpretation of 25 Midlantic and the fact that the Government isn't objecting to

1 the Plan under this, Your Honor -- it sounds like Your Honor
2 is going to hold that Midlantic does not preclude 3 confirmation. We respectfully disagree but we understand 4 it's going to be an issue that we'll need to take up on 5 appeal.

6 But before I rest, Your Honor, the last thing I 7 want to leave the Court with --

8 THE COURT: I want to go back to before you even 9 leave the argument. You're right, I'm going to overrule your 10 Midlantic objection you made in the brief. I don't think 11 that you have the -- you can't assert the Government's 12 Midlantic rights. The Government needs to use its Midlantic 13 rights as it determines it needs to do to maximize the 14 health, safety of the environment. I don't think that you 15 can assert them, you particularly can't assert them in a case 16 where the Government has, in fact, ostentatiously not 17 objected for lack of a better description of what they have 18 done.

19 With respect to the equal treatment, I don't 20 understand where that falls under 1129 when you're not 21 identically situated to someone else. You have an analogous 22 situation to someone else. Safe-out of your facility is 23 different from than the safe-out of their facility. They're 24 just both safe-outs.

25 So where under 1129 does this objection fall?

1 MR. ALANIZ: Yeah, Your Honor, the tie here was 2 1129(a)(1), the Plan does not comply with the applicable 3 provisions of this title, and then we tied that to 4 1123(a)(4) that says a Plan must provide the same treatment
5 for each claim of a particular class.

6 And you're right, Your Honor, this is sort of an 7 analogous argument in that, you know, really it's just a 8 matter of sort of the unequal treatment in the fact that 9 you're treating one creditor like Eni or Chevron in a way 10 that is very different than the way that they're treating us.

11 And that's the argument. I understand (glitch in 12 the audio) --

13 THE COURT: So, look, I think that your client is 14 an unsecured creditor and you should be getting the same 15 unsecured type claim that everyone else gets. But if in 16 furtherance of Midlantic, in keeping with priorities that 17 the Government doesn't object to, their decision is to safe-18 out one and not safe-out another. I don't see how that fits 19 into equal class treatment, and you're saying it doesn't, it's 20 just kind of analogous to equal class treatment, and I think 21 that fails under a Midlantic -- specifically fails under a 22 Midlantic standard. We need to maximize environmental 23 protections.

24 And I haven't heard, in addition to sort or on a 25 general good faith standard, that there has been a

1 comparable commercial reason to do yours as there has been 2 to do others. And, you know, if you want to put up the kind 3 of money, or make the kind of concessions others are making,
4 I might cross into some good faith area, but I've heard no 5 evidence about that.

6 So as to that objection I'm going to overrule it 7 and let you move down to your final -- or however many more 8 you have. I think you said you have one more.

9 MR. ALANIZ: Well, no, Your Honor, it's really just 10 to make a point that I -- we hope is non-controversial, but, 11 you know, just the statement that the Plan should not set 12 off Hess and the other predecessors in the chain of title 13 with an increased risk that a man or woman that they are 14 forced to send out to one of these facilities to remove -- 15 deal with hydrocarbons does not come home at night, like if 16 either of us commits to do with other predecessors which is 17 commit to remove hydrocarbons from the West Delta property, 18 and that's the only statement that we wanted to make, Your 19 Honor. So that --

20 THE COURT: So I am going to require that a 21 provision go in the confirm Order that to the extent that 22 Hess elects, and Hess is not required to elect, but to the 23 extent that Hess elects to take immediate or at some point 24 down the road later possession of the property, that it is 25 required to administer as a predecessor-in-interest.

1           The provision will require that the Debtor 2 promptly cooperate in transferring the assets to them that 3 require retirement work to be done, and to do so with all 4 due haste in compliance with applicable federal regulations.
5 So that if Hess believes for example that it is being 6 required to send an employee into a dangerous situation, I 7 want it as quickly as it can under federal law to be able to 8 take over the asset and the Debtor shouldn't be able to stand 9 in the way by delaying the abandonment. The Debtor has to 10 cooperate with immediate abandonment consistent with federal 11 law if Hess so demands.

12           And I think that then resolves that by putting 13 control in Hess's hands to the maximum extent it can be. Is 14 there any objection to that either by Hess or by the Debtor 15 to including such a provision?

16           MR. PEREZ: Your Honor, --

17           MR. ALANIZ: No problem here, Your Honor.

18           THE COURT: Mr. Perez?

19           MR. PEREZ: (No audible response.)

20           THE COURT: I think I heard Mr. Alaniz say, No
21 problem here, and I didn't hear Mr. Perez.

22           MR. PEREZ: Yes, Your Honor. Am I on the line?

23           THE COURT: You are.

24           MR. PEREZ: Okay. Your Honor, we don't have any 25 objection, but that is, in fact, what the transition

1 services are intended to do. And we will obviously 2 cooperate and provide and, you know, provide what's required
3 under the transition services. I certainly don't want 4 Mr. Alaniz to think that what the Court has ruled is that we 5 have to safe-out these properties before --

6 THE COURT: No, I didn't say --

7 MR. ALANIZ: -- before they are transitioned.

8 THE COURT: -- no, no, no, I didn't say that at 9 all. What I'm saying is if Hess believes that you're putting 10 some of its employees in danger, unless I'm misunderstanding 11 the whole purpose of the transition agreement, the minute
12 Hess is ready to take over, the transition service agreement 13 at that point terminates as to the Hess properties. This is 14 the way I think that that works.

15 And what I'm saying is that once Hess is ready, I 16 don't want their employees endangered either, nor do you.
17 And at that point you can't delay them, there's not going to 18 be any further negotiations, consistent with federal 19 regulations in terms of how you would do the transition to 20 Hess, and --

21 MR. ALANIZ: Right.

22 THE COURT: -- I don't know what type of permits
23 they would need to have in order to take over, Mr. Alaniz, 24 but whatever you all need to do to be able to take it over, 25 they have to immediately engage in compliance with that.

1           And, Mr. Perez, I think that's consistent, not 2 inconsistent, with the Transition Services Agreement. But I 3 don't remember anything in the Plan that is part of the 4 abandonment that requires you to engage in a transition to 5 the predecessor-in-interest on a hasty basis. I'm saying as 6 hastily as you can so long as it's consistent with the 7 transition required by Mr. Velasco's friends.

8           MR. PEREZ: Absolutely, Your Honor. Obviously 9 we're spending, you know, a million-plus dollars a month to 10 make payments during the transition, so if everybody was 11 prepared to do the transition on the effective date, I'm sure 12 Mr. Dane would welcome that.

13           THE COURT: I got that. I just -- we've all been 14 in situations where someone can then say, Well, let's reopen 15 the negotiations about how this ought to happen. And I'm 16 saying, No, when they're ready, they get it.

17           MR. PEREZ: Okay.

18           THE COURT: Okay. Let's put that in the Order.

19           And then, Mr. Alaniz, tomorrow you'll be able to 20 worry about the language in the Confirmation Order not only 21 on that issue but on other issues. And if they don't satisfy 22 any other issues, you can then make your further objection 23 if that works for you.

24           MR. ALANIZ: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you.

25           THE COURT: All right. Does anyone else have what

1 I will call an unresolvable objection with respect to 2 negotiating terms of the Confirmation Order? We do have 3 someone. Let me see who that is. I don't know if that was 4 Mr. Perez raising his hand again when he was already 5 authorized to speak.

6 Okay. So no one else has something that they 7 think isn't going to -- wait, Mr. Eisenberg, you do.
8 Mr. Eisenberg, go ahead, please.

9 MR. EISENBERG: Thank you, Your Honor. Are you 10 able to hear me?

11 THE COURT: I can.

12 MR. EISENBERG: Thank you, Your Honor. Just I'm 13 not sure if my technology may work or not.

14 We had sent language to the Debtors and I don't 15 know if this is unresolvable, but we have -- we've been 16 talking to them about Paragraph 13A, particularly the 17 subrogating -- the language with regard to the claims for 18 subrogation and the recent occupation and things of that 19 nature.

20 And certainly we think we can -- I think there's 21 language that satisfies me, I don't know if the same language
22 satisfies them. We're certainly willing to spend some time 23 talking about it with them and then preserving the argument
24 for tomorrow, Your Honor, so.

25 And I know also my colleague, Mr. Kuebel, is 1 taking his wife out for her birthday tonight, and so I don't 2 want to (indiscernible).

3 THE COURT: Look, we've talked quite a bit about 4 what that language needs to look like today. That may help
5 inform some overnight negotiations. But all of your rights 6 to make objections are going to be preserved if you don't get 7 the language there. That's language that I think ought to be 8 worked out that sort of said in about 18 different ways what 9 I think it needs -- what I'm going to order that it says.

10 It may very well be, and, Mr. Eisenberg, I would 11 regard this as totally fair, that you -- and the same goes 12 for you, Mr. Perez, I know I've said some things that both 13 sides don't particularly like in this area, so you can each 14 agree to language that you think is consistent with the way 15 that I have ruled, and preserve your right to object to the 16 ruling, you're not agreeing to the outcome, you're only 17 agreeing to language and what I've ruled. That may make this 18 a little bit easier because I'm not looking to have you be 19 kowtowed into waiving some appellate right because you're 20 complying with an Order that I've already made.

21 MR. EISENBERG: We understand that, Your Honor.
22 We appreciate that, and will continue to talk with the 23 Debtors and the other parties constructively to try to close 24 whatever gaps that exist. Thank you.

25 THE COURT: All right. So I did receive from

1 Locke Lord an envelope with a flash drive, and I've received 2 from Weil an envelope with a flash drive. I've opened the 3 envelopes and I've not looked at the flash drives. I'm going 4 to assume that they are irrelevant now and just throw the 5 away and not make them part of the Record, because overnight
6 I assume that whatever you sent me will now change.

7           So if you would send me new flash drives tomorrow,
8 but for now I'm going to toss them. Unless somebody thinks I 9 need them as part of the Record. I do not think I do. They 10 weren't shown, I haven't read them, they weren't filed.

11           (No audible response.)

12           THE COURT: Okay. They're gone. Anyone else have 13 anything you want to talk -- oh, let's see, I do have 14 somebody else. Mr. Kuebel.

15           MR. KUEBEL: (No audible response.)

16           THE COURT: You've got your own line muted.

17           MR. KUEBEL: Oh, I certainly do. I apologize, 18 Your Honor. Can you hear me?

19           THE COURT: I can. Would you wish your wife well 20 tonight?

21           MR. KUEBEL: Thank you. It's a milestone birthday
22 for her this evening. I appreciate that, Your Honor.

23           I actually think it's a very constructive idea to 24 come back at 1:30. We do have language outstanding. We did 25 send over to the Court language that we thought was

1 consistent with the Court's instruction, and if we have to 2 take it up tomorrow, we can take it up tomorrow. Hopefully 3 it'll be resolved in between now and then.

4 THE COURT: Thank you, sir.

5 Mr. Zuber.

6 MR. ZUBER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Scott
7 Zuber --

8 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

9 MR. ZUBER: -- on behalf of Berkley and Sirius.

11 BERKLEY AND SIRIUS

12 MR. ZUBER: We also have had some discussions with 13 Debtors' counsel and other stakeholders involving some 14 language, in particular with respect to Paragraph 5.13A of 15 the Plan, and we also suggested some minor tweaks to 16 Paragraph 10K of the Plan Confirmation Order. And I thought 17 we had made pretty progress, but we didn't really connect 18 with what we hear on the Zoom so I think that given the 19 opportunity to continue this hearing till tomorrow may be 20 helpful to get resolution there.

21 The other issue, I'm not sure if it's resolvable or 22 not, is we still have a standing objection with respect to 23 the exculpation provisions. Perhaps we can work that out as 24 well. Perhaps we'll have to do that tomorrow, unless Your 25 Honor required that be done now. But I think reserving our 1 arguments for tomorrow makes sense and see what works out.

2 THE COURT: No, look, I just want to trust
3 everybody's judgment on this. If you think that there's a 4 decent chance you're going to work it out, and let -- you can 5 make your argument tomorrow. And I'm not going to second 6 guess your judgment that you thought you'd work it out. But, 7 you know, if you want to make an argument right now, I'll 8 listen to it right now, but it makes more sense if you think 9 you're going to work it out to just defer the argument 10 without prejudice till tomorrow. So let me just trust your 11 judgment and not my own.

12 MR. ZUBER: Yeah, as long as we reserve all 13 arguments for tomorrow I'd prefer to reserve and see what we 14 can get accomplished.

15 THE COURT: You and all others do, so thank you.
16 I show --

17 MR. ZUBER: Thank you, Your Honor.

18 THE COURT: -- Mr. Peck has an issue.

19 MR. KADDEN: Good afternoon, Your Honor. This is 20 actually Benjamin Kadden --

21 THE COURT: Mr. Kadden.

22 MR. KADDEN: -- on behalf of Atlantic Maritime 23 Services.

24 I wanted to just confirm that -- the Court's intent
25 to take up our motion for relief from stay at the conclusion

1 of the Confirmation Hearing tomorrow, at the same time of 2 confirmation. Just wanted to confirm that timing.

3 THE COURT: I have not been thinking about that.
4 I know that I promised to take it up at the end of 5 confirmation. Does it make the most sense to do it
6 tomorrow, or to do it now? I think tomorrow, but if you
7 think it makes more sense now, let me know. I know I made 8 you the promise, I just haven't worried about it. But I'm 9 going to keep my promise.

10 MR. KADDEN: At the conclusion of confirmation is 11 fine, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Kadden.

13 Mr. Langley.

14 MR. LANGLEY: (No audible response.)

15 THE COURT: Mr. Langley?

16 MR. LANGLEY: (No audible response.)

17 THE COURT: I think you may have your own line
18 muted, Mr. Langley.

19 MR. LANGLEY: You are correct, Your Honor. Do you 20 h hear me now?

21 THE COURT: I can. Thank you.

22 MR. LANGLEY: We do have some legal objections to 23 the Plan pending. Do you want to hear those now or 24 tomorrow?

25 THE COURT: I want to hear them now, unless you

1 believe that they're resolvable by Confirmation Order 2 language.

3 MR. LANGLEY: I do not.

4 THE COURT: Then let's hear them now. Go ahead.

5 MR. LANGLEY: Thank you. And we do have some 6 language issues pending, and so I'll leave those aside. And,
7 Your Honor, Keith Langley on behalf of Travelers, Liberty
8 Mutual, Hanover and XL.

9 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF TRAVELERS,
10 LIBERTY MUTUAL, HANOVER AND XL

11 MR. LANGLEY: We are four sureties that have 12 issued approximately 220 million in private bonds on behalf 13 of the Debtors. And I have three issues to present to the 14 Court.

15 The first issue is jurisdictional. I'm here to 16 change your mind on Midlantic, and so I'm going to talk about 17 that. I then want to talk about oil and the Gulf and 18 suretyship. And with Your Honor's permission I'll address 19 those issues.

20 THE COURT: Thank you, Mr. Langley. Go ahead.

21 MR. LANGLEY: Your Honor, the first issue is the 22 impacts of the Debtors in seeking to abandon depleted assets
23 without addressing the environmental responsibilities
24 required of an oil and gas operator in the Gulf. If a Plan 25 violates the law, which the abandonment of these properties

1 would, the Plan cannot be confirmed under 1129(a)(3).

2           The Debtors have not established that the Plan is 3 in the best interest of creditors versus a liquidation under 4 1129(a)(7). And the treatment of surety bonds across the 5 board including a mistaken belief that a bond issued on 6 behalf of Fieldwood can remain in force and can be used by a 7 successor entity without assumption, cure or indemnity.

8           A surety bond -- we've heard about policy and a 9 surety bond is not insurance, and there can be no bond 10 without a principal. Yet here the Plan envisions that the 11 bonds continue to exist without a principal, and this would 12 violate the law about suretyship and makes the Plan 13 unconfirmable under 1129(a)(3). And the --

14           THE COURT: Well, what happens --

15           MR. LANGLEY: -- probably the Plan --

16           THE COURT: -- what happens under applicable non-17 bankruptcy law if a principal induces a surety to issue a 18 bond and a surety issues the bond, and the principal then 19 dissolves its existence. So they just go to state law --

20           MR. LANGLEY: Thank you --

21           THE COURT: -- you know, let's take a Delaware 22 corporation and they go dissolve. What happens to the bond?

23           MR. LANGLEY: The bond is a tri-part by a three-24 party agreement and it runs to the obligee on behalf of the 25 principal. So we could talk about that a lot, but I think

1 where Your Honor is going is a jurisdictional issue, a 2 Midlantic issue and how that impacts suretyship and 3 bankruptcy --

4 THE COURT: Well, no, I'm not. I'm actually trying 5 to deal with -- you said as a matter of law that a bond does 6 not exist if there isn't a principal. I think that's pretty 7 much a quotation of what you just said. My question to you 8 is --

9 MR. LANGLEY: Yes, sir?

10 THE COURT: -- under applicable non-bankruptcy
11 law if the principal dissolves, what happens to the bond?

12

13 MR. LANGLEY: The bond is still there, Your Honor.

14 THE COURT: So how is your statement accurate?

15 MR. LANGLEY: The fact -- because you -- to have a 16 new -- a bond in existence for a risk, you have to have a 17 principal. And here there's no principal. Newco would take 18 assets without being liable on the bond.

19 THE COURT: But Fieldwood was the one that was 20 liable on the bond, and Fieldwood remains liable via an 21 unsecured claim. Right?

22 MR. LANGLEY: Yes, sir.

23 THE COURT: So I don't understand -- I just 24 didn't -- I don't think that your statement of law is 25 consistent with what you're telling me because it means that

1 just as in applicable non-bankruptcy law, if there is a
2 dissolution, that your client's obligation under the bond
3 would not be altered. Under bankruptcy law their obligation
4 under the bond isn't altered either. It's not enhanced 5 either, but it's not altered merely by dissolution or merely 6 by confirmation of a Plan.

7 Unless there is an alteration, and maybe there is.
8 But I don't see what that alteration is from merely the 9 dissolution/confirmation.

10 MR. LANGLEY: I think that's a good argument. I 11 think there's 50 percent on the right hand that you're arguing 12 and 50 percent on the left hand, and without a principal you 13 don't have a bond. And here I think the Plan does impair 14 those rights.

15 THE COURT: No, I --

16 MR. LANGLEY: And I think that --

17 THE COURT: -- but I guess I'm -- you just said
18 this again, without a principal you don't have a bond.
19 Without a principal you don't start a bond, but you've issued 20 your bond. How is it possible under your answer to my 21 question that without a principal you don't have a bond?
22 That can't be an accurate statement.

23 MR. LANGLEY: Well, imagine two things. In 24 Fieldwood One, Fieldwood, where they abandon an asset like 25 the Spar, the Spar is abandoned. Now the bond is still in

1 effect and the issue is a jurisdictional issue going to 2 clean up of oil in the Gulf. And then you have Newco, which 3 might take over an asset, and in that instance the 4 Government looks to Newco and the existing assets, which 5 include an argument about the bond. We don't think it's an 6 asset of Fieldwood and we think that produces a problem, 7 Judge.

8 THE COURT: You're making several arguments and I'm 9 trying to deal with them one at a time. I want to deal with 10 your issue that says no principal, no bond. And I don't 11 understand that that is the law. And from what you've told 12 me, if there is a dissolution, there is no principal, but 13 there is still a bond. And then we can move to your 14 jurisdictional argument, which is a completely different 15 argument. And I'm happy to move there. But I'm telling you, 16 I don't understand the no principal, no bond argument as 17 being consistent with non-bankruptcy law.

18 MR. LANGLEY: Well, just thinking on that one no
19 principal, no bond issue, Judge, the problem is tomorrow 20 with Newco there's no principal but there is an asset which 21 is covered by the bond. So you have an argument about does 22 the bond continue in full force and does that provide a 23 protection to the Government. Now we argue the answer is 24 no.

25 THE COURT: So what does that have to do with the

1 no principal, no bond issue? I understand your argument 2 that the transfer of the asset might obviate the bond, but 3 that's not the argument you're making. You're telling me no
4 principal, no bond. Those are different issues. Tell me 5 why this -- why no principal, no bond concept matters to me.

6 MR. LANGLEY: Well, I think I am saying that, 7 Judge. I might not be saying it very well, but I think the 8 problem becomes when Fieldwood exits stage left, and the 9 permission is given by this Court to exit stage left, you're 10 left with a surety and an issue of where do you get 11 indemnity rights, subrogation, and exoneration on that bond 12 other than -- no one is left --

13 THE COURT: Well, no, there's an unsecured claim 14 against Fieldwood. That's the credit risk your client took.

15 MR. LANGLEY: There's an issue as to who owes what 16 relative to that oil in the Gulf.

17 THE COURT: And what does the oil in the Gulf?
18 Okay. So I am -- I will just tell you, I don't understand no
19 principal, no bond. I'm overruling that as an objection 20 because the argument makes no sense to me.

21 So let's go to your next argument, which may be 22 that the transfer from what you're telling me causes a 23 problem separate from that. So what happens under 24 applicable non-bankruptcy law if your principal transfers an 25 asset in violation of the bond? What happens to your bond?

1 MR. LANGLEY: You have a bond defense issue there,
2 Your Honor, and that is an increase in the risk on the bond 3 and a material --

4 THE COURT: So I have an obligee that got your 5 bond, you guaranteed to pay you told me $220 million in 6 clean up costs, and your obligee does not make -- does not 7 do anything, they sit still, and the borrower transfers -- 8 I'm sorry, the principal transfers the asset. You're telling 9 me the obligee loses its bond under that situation under 10 non-bankruptcy law?

11 MR. LANGLEY: You have an issue there, Judge, 12 about the amount that the bonding company owes in that 13 circumstance and who else owes in that circumstance.

14 THE COURT: Well, let's start with whether the 15 obligee can collect its $220 million. So the Debtor, the 16 principal, transfers its asset on its own, that's not 17 illegal, it simply violates your contract. Does it -- do 18 you have an argument that your client's penal sum is not 19 still callable by the obligee?

20 MR. LANGLEY: If the obligee is a party to that 21 issue you mentioned, yes.

22 THE COURT: They're not. The Government has not 23 authorized --

24 MR. LANGLEY: In your hypo, they're not --

25 THE COURT: -- that the Government has simply not

1 objected to it.

2 MR. LANGLEY: If the Government -- the Government
3 gets to set under its regulatory powers the amount of 4 financial responsibility to operate that asset. And so 5 setting that financial responsibility amount impacts the 6 liability on the bond.

7 THE COURT: What does that have to do with whether 8 the principal transferred the asset in violation of the bond 9 but not in violation of the law?

10 MR. LANGLEY: Well, we argue that a transfer is in 11 violation of the law, Your Honor.

12 THE COURT: Okay. What law does it violate?

13 MR. LANGLEY: Midlantic.

14 THE COURT: I am overruling an objection that the 15 transfer of --

16 MR. LANGLEY: Got it.

17 THE COURT: -- an asset that is environmentally 18 troubled violates Midlantic unless those who are responsible 19 in the Governmental regulatory position in both in Midlantic
20 rights, I do not believe as a matter of law that a bond 21 issuer may invoke Midlantic rights for a number of reasons.

22 First, the situation in Midlantic is not a bond
23 issue. The situation in Midlantic in terms of being fact 24 specific were Governmental entities that were objecting.

25 Midlantic makes clear that it is inconsistent

1 with the language of the Bankruptcy Code and therefore its 2 exception to the Bankruptcy Code should be extremely 3 narrowly tailored. I am extremely narrowly tailoring it and 4 holding that it applies to Governmental units.

5           Number two, the public policy reason behind 6 Midlantic was to encourage and make available clean up of 7 environmentally hazardous sites as -- if regulators
8 otherwise objected. If, in fact, we allowed parties other 9 than the Government to exercise those rights, we're going to 10 end up with orphaned properties.

11           By way of example, in this case there simply are 12 not enough assets in Fieldwood's possession and control. And 13 by the way, its asset do not include the penal sums on the 14 bonds, and never did. They have no right to the penal sums 15 on the bonds. It would mean that we were left with 16 environmental hazards if those were ratably put across all 17 environmental issues.

18           And so if we did that, we would have orphaned 19 properties that could not be cleaned up because they will be 20 properties without predecessors-in-interest available 21 potentially to clean them up. And the Government needs to 22 exercise its discretion as to when and how to apply 23 Midlantic to maximize the environmental rights.

24           The Supreme Court has simply not ruled that a 25 private litigant can overrule the determination of the 1 Government with respect to how to handle environmental 2 matters and simultaneously ask a Bankruptcy Court not to 3 invoke the provisions of the Bankruptcy Code. There's no

4 Supreme Court authority for that, not 5th Circuit authority 5 for that. And I am not doing that. I'm overruling the 6 objection.

7 Go ahead.

8 MR. LANGLEY: Okay. Thank you, Your Honor. The 9 issue that -- I want to make sure if I stated clearly or 10 properly is that a transfer to a new principal does result 11 in discharge of the surety, and we have public policy issues
12 around that that sureties are key to operations in the Gulf 13 to --

14 THE COURT: Wait, wait, wait, wait, you're telling 15 me --

16 MR. LANGLEY: -- contain it --

17 THE COURT: -- that this goes back to the example 18 where I thought you said it didn't. I'm talking -- the 19 example we have here is the principal transfers a property 20 in violation of the bond, the obligee does not do that, that 21 you're telling me that under non-bankruptcy law the surety's 22 obligation to the obligee is discharged because the 23 principal did something that's inconsistent with the bond?

24 MR. LANGLEY: I think that, Your Honor, the 25 obligee had a duty under the bond to act responsibly and had

1 to act in this bankruptcy case responsibly on that issue.

2 So, yes, I think there's a fact issue as to what the obligee 3 has done to permit a transfer of the principal.

4 THE COURT: Great. Tell me what evidence you have 5 to support that argument then, because if you're telling me 6 that there is evidence that the obligee has acted in a 7 manner in bad faith under the bonds, what was the evidence 8 that was introduced at the hearing to support that argument?

9 MR. LANGLEY: Your Honor, I don't know that it's a 10 bad faith issue, I think it's a totality of the circumstances 11 of what is done as it relates to the bond in default.

12 THE COURT: What's the evidence then? Give me the 13 totality of the circumstances of it. I don't know of any 14 evidence that you introduced, or that anyone else did, that 15 supports the argument. But I'm willing to have you refresh 16 my recollection. Tell me the evidence that under the 17 totality of the circumstances that something has occurred 18 here where I should determine that the bonds would not be 19 enforceable.

20 MR. LANGLEY: I don't think you would determine 21 that, Your Honor. I think that would be an issue of -- 22 between the surety and the obligee, and it would be the 23 actions taken in this bankruptcy.

24 THE COURT: What evidence is there that any 25 actions in this bankruptcy would precipitate that result?

1 MR. LANGLEY: I'm not in a position to go into 2 that, Judge.

3 THE COURT: Okay. I'm going to overrule as a 4 matter of law that the actions that are being undertaken by 5 the Debtor and by all of the parties to the bankruptcy case 6 that are acting in cooperation with the Debtor have been 7 undertaken in the utmost good faith to maximize the 8 principles of Midlantic, and that no party who failed to 9 introduce any evidence in support of what I regard as a 10 specious argument, may subsequently raise the issue that 11 there was any wrongdoing that occurred in the bankruptcy 12 case. The evidence is overwhelming that it's not.

13 And that is one of the reasons why, in furtherance 14 of Midlantic and in furtherance of 5th Circuit law, I'm 15 ordering exculpation for these actions. We're never going to 16 get matters cleaned up if we allow parties to put up road
17 blocks and say, If you work on cleaning up the environment 18 publicly in good faith with the cooperation of all parties 19 concerned and with the Government not objecting, we can't let 20 private parties endanger the environment the way your client 21 is trying to do it.

22 I'm overruling the objection and I'm finding this is 23 not subsequently challengeable. What's your next argument?

24 MR. LANGLEY: Then I rest, Your Honor.

25 THE COURT: All right. Mr. Langley, I'm being very 1 blunt because I want you to have a good Appellate Record,

2 and I think I'm ruling correctly.

3 MR. LANGLEY: I appreciate that.

4 THE COURT: I have zero problem that you're making
5 the arguments, but without evidence, you know, I'm not sure 6 on what basis I would ever rule any other way when there was 7 a complete absence of evidence of anything other than utmost 8 good faith.

9 All right. Let me move to the next person. From 10 630-790-0261.

11 MR. KOOY: Good morning, Your Honor -- or good 12 afternoon, Your Honor. Ralph Kooy on behalf of one of the 13 other non-Apache sureties, North American Specialty Company.
14 I'm in a similar situation as Mr. Zuber.

15 CLOSING ARGUMENTS ON BEHALF OF 16 NORTH AMERICAN SPECIALTY COMPANY

17 MR. KOOY: We've been exchanging language with 18 respect to the subrogation, and actually my partner's been 19 involved in those discussions. And with respect to the 20 reservation of the surety's rights with respect to other 21 obligees. In our specific cases E&I and Chevron and Union, 22 I believe we're going to resolve those, but I just wanted to 23 reserve the right to make our argument tomorrow.

24 THE COURT: Of course. Thank you for letting me 25 know, Mr. Kooy, and your rights are reserved. And hopefully

1 the language will get worked out.

2 Mr. Perez?

3 MR. KOOY: Thank you very much, Your Honor.

4 MR. PEREZ: Did you call on me, Your Honor?

5 THE COURT: Yes, sir.

6 MR. PEREZ: Yes. So, Your Honor, just for to 7 inform the Court, I think it was appropriate to go after 8 counsel. We did file an adversary proceeding and a motion 9 to impose the automatic stay with respect to the lawsuit
10 that NAS filed over -- last Friday against Eni and Chevron
11 because of their actions in furtherance of the Plan.

12 So, Your Honor, we've requested an expedited
13 hearing. Obviously to the extent that we can solve -- 14 resolve this consensually, that's great. If we can't, as you 15 know we'd request that the Court set it for a hearing perhaps 16 after the end of the Confirmation Hearing.

17 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: And, Your Honor, I
18 apologize, I haven't had an opportunity to review that yet, 19 having just came in.

20 THE COURT: I'm not going to set it right now, and 21 I haven't read it. And when -- I would really doubt that 22 there is going to be somebody else -- as I recall, you 23 removed the lawsuit into Federal Court anyway. Isn't that 24 correct? Or no?

25 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Your Honor, the -- yes, the

1 lawsuit was filed on Friday in Federal Court. It's not a 2 removed case, it's a new lawsuit.

3 THE COURT: Sorry, in Federal Court here or in 4 Federal Court somewhere else?

5 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: No, in Federal Court
6 upstairs here. I believe it was filed as an adversary in 7 the bankruptcy, wasn't it?

8 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: I don't believe so.

9 THE COURT: So --

10 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: The United States
11 Bankruptcy Court -- it was filed as an adversary. Let me -- 12 I'll -- I have to strike that. I apologize, that is not the 13 case. No, it was just filed in the District Court. You're 14 correct.

15 THE COURT: So I mean in terms of setting 16 something for an emergency hearing, are you going to try and 17 get any relief from the District Court in the next seven 18 days?

19 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: I do not believe so, no.

20 THE COURT: All right. I'm going to Order that if 21 you do intend to change -- you're welcome to change your 22 mind, if you decide to change your mind, I'm going to require 23 you and Mr. Perez jointly to get with my case manager and to 24 schedule an emergency hearing before me prior to the date on 25 which you schedule anything with the District Court. Fair

1 enough?

2 UNIDENTIFIED SPEAKER: Okay. Very good.

3 THE COURT: Okay. Thank you.

4 All right. What do we have next? Let me see, I've 5 got Ms. Rosen.

6 MS. ROSEN: Thank you, Your Honor. I just wanted
7 to speak up on behalf of XTO entities. This is Suki Rosen
8 of Forshey Prostok.

9 I just wanted to make sure, I believe the Court
10 said earlier that all the parties could reserve their rights 11 if they're dealing with the Debtors on language for the 12 Confirmation Order. And while we don't consent to the Plan, 13 we are possibly working out language with the Debtors. I 14 just wanted to make sure we could reserve our rights as 15 well.

16 THE COURT: You do and so does everyone else who 17 is within the range of my voice which is pretty broad right 18 now.

19 MS. ROSEN: Thank you, Your Honor.

20 THE COURT: Thank you.

21 All right. Anyone else believe they have anything 22 we should address today, otherwise we'll go ahead and adjourn 23 till 1:30.

24 Mr. Carlson, if you want to use this opportunity 25 to schedule anything with people to talk to you about the

1 Order, or you want to just continue to move where you're 2 going. I'm leaving it up to you as -- do you want to talk to 3 everybody while you have everybody here listening. Or are 4 you just going to do it all by email?

5 MR. CARLSON: I'm happy to reach out by email and 6 set up calls this evening.

7 THE COURT: Okay. I will see you all tomorrow at 8 1:30. Thank you everyone.

9 We're in adjournment for the day.

10 MR. CARLSON: Thank you.
